Freezing Rain Hits City Area

New Blizzard Sweeps West

A deluge of cold, freezing rain hit Mansfield today while freakish weather continued to run rampant over the country, catching some 2,000 travelers in heavy snow near the Mexican border.

Hazardous driving conditions prevailed in some sections of the state as the early morning drizzle froze on highways in the Lima area and in the vicinity of Bellefontaine. Despite the fact that Mansfielders scraped ice off their windshields before starting to work today, highways were not reported dangerous in the area.

More rain, snow and sleet were predicted for the state for tomorrow. Rain is expected to change to snow Wednesday.

In a five-day extended forecast, the weather bureau said the temperature would be near normal for the period. Colder weather is expected to move in tomorrow night, but moderating temperatures with snow or rain were forecast for the end of the week.

Temperatures early today ranged from 24 to 41 degrees. Mansfield's low reading was 27 degrees at 2:30 a. m. today. Yesterday's high was 36 degrees at 1:30 p. m.

BLIZZARD HITS DAKOTAS

Wide sections of the west were battered by wintry storms. A blizzard whistled into the Dakotas from Canada, southern California was ravaged by a crop-killing freeze, and a freezing rain fell in the middle Mississippi valley.

Acting Gov. Joseph Montoya mobilized the Lordsburg, N. M., unit of the National Guard last night to feed motorists trapped in the city and to rescue travelers stranded on roads when more than a foot of snow surprised the resort area. About 12 inches also fell near Roswell, N. M.

Three churches were opened and the pews shoved aside to make room for cots to care for travelers. About 1,000 persons were housed in the churches and in two or three lodge halls. Another thousand were lodged in six hotels and eight tourist courts.

The National Guard sent squads searching along roadways for others and the Red Cross organized a message center for persons trying to locate relatives.

Syria Urges Peace Talks

Arab Silence Draws Criticism

TEL AVIV. — (INS) — The Syria state radio called on all Arab states today to begin immediate peace talks with Israel to avoid "death, dishonor, hunger and homelessness."

The Damascus radio, formerly violently anti-Jewish, criticized the seven-nation Arab league for its silence on the current Rhodes negotiations.

This newest plea for Holy Land peace coincided with the disclosure that from 200 to 250 sick and wounded Egyptians trapped at Faluja in the Negev desert will be evacuated on Thursday.

The Syrian radio, in one of the most vigorous Arab appeals for peace yet made, said: "Those now advocating war sit in comfortable chairs with their pockets full of money with no idea what a battlefield is like."

FBI Joins Death Probe

TALLAHASSEE, FLA. —(INS) — The most modern crime-detection methods of the FBI were pressed into action today in an effort to solve the fatal shooting of multi-millionaire Grenville Baker on a pre-dawn jeep ride with a "car-hop" through his family's 13,000-acre estate.

Tallahassee authorities, frankly baffled by scores of details "which don't jibe" in the death of the 27-year-old New York banking heir and wartime bomber pilot, appealed to the FBI after admittedly "getting nowhere" in a 24-hour investigation.

With the millionaire New Yorker when he died with the bullet through his head was a pert 21-year-old divorcee, a brunet carhop at a drive-in restaurant.

In a car just ahead were Floyd Whiddon, ex-convict tavern keeper described as an "inveterate bootlegger" in dry Tallahassee; Whiddon's wife, and their small son.

Votes $1,621,799 for Schools; Maple Lake Site Expanded

Building Plans Sought

The Mansfield Board of Education last night paved the way for construction of a new school to serve the Maple Lake area.

The board approved purchase of eight lots on Arlington avenue for a 13-room building to be erected at a cost estimated at more than $350,000.

The lots will cost $13,980 and are adjacent to six lots on Highland avenue already owned by the Mansfield school system, Supt. W. L. Miller reported.

The land will be purchased from Robert Lamb, a former Mansfielder now living in Murray, Ky. The site of the new school will be on the land bordered by Arlington avenue, Euclid avenue, Highland avenue, and Taylor road.

The board approved letting the architectural plans to the Harry J. Brumenshenkel architectural firm. Brumenshenkel told the board he could submit complete specifications 60 days after the preliminary plans had been decided upon. Preliminary plans could be drawn up within 30 days, he said.

DUE BY FALL OF '50

It is hoped that the school on Arlington avenue will be completed by the fall of 1950, Miller said.

The new school will fill a long-felt need for more adequate educational facilities in the Maple Lake area, board spokesmen said.

It is the first new project in the building program extension for which the two-and-a-quarter-million-dollar bond issue was approved in the Nov. 2 election.

Other proposed projects are: The construction of a new Brinkerhoff-Carpenter school. The present Brinkerhoff and Carpenter buildings are to be torn down.

A new Prospect school to replace the present building, and additions to Bowman, Woodland and Hedges schools.

Currently under construction are the West Fifth street school and the Newman school. Finishing touches are being applied to the newly-opened Roseland school.

Red Troops Hit Peiping

BULLETIN

MOSCOW — (INS) — The Soviet government announced today it has refused to mediate in the Chinese civil war.

NANKING —(AP)— Nationalist north China was falling apart today, and foreign diplomats expected momentarily to be notified that the Nanking government was being dispersed for safety reasons.

Meanwhile, the old capitol of Peiping, encircled by Red armies, is expected to fall or surrender momentarily. A newspaper published by Peiping's commander, Gen. Fu Tso-Yi, hinted as much, dispatches from there said.

Nanking filled with more defending National troops as the government pulled back its forces from north of the Yangtze.

There was some dissension in foreign quarters as National troops moved into the Nanking area. Foreign owned and Chinese properties were seized as billets.

Comic Books Code Readied

NEW YORK —(AP)— A "comics code" is ready to be put into effect as "the first organized effort at self-regulation in the industry," the Association of Comics Magazine Publishers announced yesterday.

The association is screening magazines of publishers willing to subscribe to the code, and the association's seal of approval will be placed on the magazines that pass the test.

OK Hospital Plan

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Cleveland's city council last night passed an ordinance enabling Cuyahoga county to start work as soon as possible on a chronic hospital, costing five million dollars.

Record Fund Approved By Board

Appropriation Upped $160,000

Mansfield public schools will be a $1,621,799 business this year.

A record operating appropriation in that amount was passed last night by the Mansfield Board of Education. The funds set up for operations in 1949 represent a $160,000 increase over the 1948 costs.

Largest item in the appropriation bill was $1,072,385 for salaries, a $64,185 increase over the salary appropriation last year.

Salaries account for 83.3 per cent of the total appropriation, the same percentage as last year. The major part of the million-plus salary figure, or a total of $812,500, will go for regular teachers' pay. The 1948 appropriation, for teachers' salaries was $760,550.

An increased appropriation over 1948 in every major category except contract and open order service was made. The latter category, including repairs, water and sewer rentals, electricity, transportation of pupils, telephone and board and lodging, dropped to $62,950 from the $65,025 appropriated last year.

SUPPLIES BOOSTED

Supply appropriations for 1949 were hiked to $90,200 from the $77,350 appropriated last year. Maintenance materials took a big jump to $24,500 compared with $16,500 in 1948.

Asks Son's Release

Canton Mother Goes Before Court

A Canton mother went before the Fifth district appeals court in Mansfield today in an attempt to have her war veteran son released from the Mansfield reformatory on a writ of habeas corpus.

Mrs. Ruth F. Reynolds asked the court to issue a writ to Supt. Arthur L. Glattke of the reformatory, freeing her son, Bobby Dale Reynolds, 25.

Young Reynolds is serving a one-to-15-year sentence for assault with intent to rob.

The court, after hearing the evidence, said a decision would be handed down within 48 hours.

Mrs. Reynolds said her son is a veteran of the last war and a ward of the Veterans Administration and has been declared to have a 100 per cent mental disability.

She contended he was declared an incompetent person on Feb. 8, 1947 in Stark county probate court and she was appointed guardian of his estate.

She said that on Aug. 22, 1947, the Stark county Common Pleas court accepted a plea of guilty from Reynolds in her absence as guardian, without his having benefit of counsel, and without first ascertaining his competency or sanity.

The offense for which he was committed occurred July 22, 1947.

Her petition said Reynolds previously was in several government hospitals suffering from mental illness.

The mother said after young Reynolds was in the reformatory a few months he was transferred to the Lima hospital to undergo mental treatment. He remained there until Sept. 8, 1948 when he was returned to the reformatory.

GIVE THEIR DIMES—Putting their silver and smiles into the March of Dimes campaign are Mrs. Miriam Carbetta, left, of 29½ South Mulberry street, and Miss Naomi Miller, 432 Wood street, both employes in the municipal court office. The March of Dimes campaign opened in Mansfield Saturday and will continue until the end of the month. Containers like the ones pictured above have been distributed to public gathering places all over the city. Campaign officials expect to top the $8,000 raised last year.

Festivities Underway

Truman Swings Into Inaugural Program

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Harry Truman, a man with a pay raise and new lease, gets out his dinner jacket today and starts celebrating.

His inauguration for a new term as President will take place at noon (EST) Thursday. This flag-decked city of nearly 1,000,000 is considerably agitated about it, with the prospect of several hundred thousand visitors adding themselves to the confusion.

Mr. Truman has just about finished revising his inaugural address. It is expected to be a foreign policy speech primarily, although it would not be surprising if he also talks about his "fair deal" domestic program as a foundation for foreign policy.

Yesterday Congress completed action on a bill raising the President's regular salary from $75,000 to $100,000 a year, and raising his tax-free expense allowance from $40,000 to $90,000.

Tonight Mr. Truman and his family are drawn into the storm of festivities that has begun roaring here. They will break bread with 2,350 members of the Truman-Barkley club at a formal dinner. That's only the beginning.

Tomorrow the President appears at a Democratic party luncheon . . . then a reception given by the governor of Missouri . . . then a dinner of the presidential electors . . . then a fantastic concert and stage show known as the "Inaugural gala," to be held in a huge armory.

On Thursday, the big day, Mr. Truman will take the presidential oath at the capitol for a four-year term, after having been President for three years, nine months and about eight days.

Then comes a mammoth parade up Pennsylvania avenue to the White House with volleys of warplanes shooting across the sky.

35 Saved From Fire

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Thirty-five residents of the Haltnorth hotel were rescued by ladder or led to safety by firemen early today when fire broke out on the first floor of the building.

All Quiet In Durban

DURBAN, South Africa—(INS)—South African officials reported all quiet today in the port city of Durban following Negro-Indian rioting that took a toll of 116 lives.

Tension was reported eased in the city, while troops and police combed the wreckage of the Indian quarter searching for casualties. Some 1,190 persons were reported injured in the riots.

Meanwhile, troops were on the alert in nearby towns, where feeling between native Zulus and Indians has been running high.

At Pieter Maritzburg about 150 natives were arrested as they marched on Indian dwellings on the outskirts of the town.

Congress Now In High Gear

WASHINGTON, — (AP) — The 81st Congress rolled along in high gear today, with two bills already on the president's desk and Mr. Truman's first major nomination ready for Senate approval.

From here on in, congressional leaders said, it will be work and more work for the two-week-old Congress, except for a short rest for this week's inauguration ceremonies.

The first two bills to reach Mr. Truman hurtled through the House yesterday, having been passed earlier by the senate. One of them will boost the pay of the president, vice-president and speaker of the House. The other gives federal workers in the Washington area a four-day inaugural week-end.

Nazi Signs Again Rise

Reich Magazines Under Scrutiny

BERLIN — (INS) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay reported today that "militaristic, nationalistic and anti-Semitic" material is again being featured in several German publications.

The United States military governor said, in his semi-monthly report, that the problem is under American scrutiny and that the staffs of two magazines in the state of Wurttemberg-Baden have been "overhauled."

Clay asserted that the reappearance of the Nazi-tinged material was an effort to "stimulate sales." He identified the publications whose staffs had been changed as "Christ and Welt" and "Wochenpost." Editors of two other periodicals, he stated, were reprimanded.

Only last week the general warned that new "nationalistic" groups were rearing their heads, and that German Democrats were frankly worried.

Airliner, 19 Missing

HAMILTON, Bermuda —(AP)— Air and sea rescue forces were mobilized over the south Atlantic today to search for a missing British airliner with 19 persons aboard.

The British South American airways Tudor "Ariel" disappeared while on the 1,000-mile flight from Bermuda to Kingston, Jamaica yesterday.

The flight normally takes five and a half hours. Presumably the plane long since was out of gas.

The Airline said in London that all but three of the passengers were British.

U. S. Coast Guard air-sea rescue headquarters at Miami, first to report the plane missing, said a Superfortress and a B-17 were among planes scheduled for today's search.

British OK Korea

LONDON—(INS)—Great Britain recognized today the United States - sponsored Republic of Korea.

Falcon Uses Statehouse As Cafeteria

A Peregrine falcon, who lives atop a ledge on the Buckeye State Building & Loan building across from the statehouse, is waxing fat off pigeon meat. He dined on this delicacy yesterday.

One swoop, a mid-air snap and the falcon had his dinner—just one of a long list of such meals.

Acheson Certain of Senate OK

GOP Leaders Concede Defeat

WASHINGTON —(UP)— The Senate was expected to confirm Dean Acheson's nomination as secretary of state today with fewer than a dozen dissenting votes.

The lawyer-diplomat will take office Thursday as successor to Gen. George C. Marshall.

Even Acheson's critics on the Republican side of the aisle conceded they had no chance of blocking Senate approval. Senate GOP leader Kenneth S. Wherry said he looks for "very little if any" opposition.

"I do not know of anyone at present who is going to oppose him on our side," said Wherry who cast the lone dissenting vote in 1945 when Acheson was up for confirmation as undersecretary of state.

There were indications, however, that a few GOP senators might blackball him this time. Their grumbling over his attitude toward communist Russia prompted the Senate Foreign Relations committee to hold public hearings on the Acheson case.

The five Republican members of the committee joined the eight Democrats in an unanimous recommendation that the appointment be approved by the full Senate.

"It is the view of the committee that Mr. Acheson is exceptionally well qualified to assume the responsibility of the high post to which the President nominated him," the committee said in a report yesterday.

The report also praised Marshall as "one of the greatest Americans of our times."

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, (R-Mich) chief Republican foreign policy spokesman, was reported ready to step into today's debate with an analysis of the country's bipartisan foreign policy.

In advance of the session, Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-O), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy committee, refused to say how he would vote.

OSU Co-eds Prettiest, Adams Says

The nation's prettiest co-eds? They're at Ohio State, says Mansfielder Lee R. Adams of the Ohio State Lantern.

"We have them all here," Adams stated with assurance in a poll of 257 college and university editors who were asked to nominate 12 institutions of higher learning which have the most beautiful and talented freshmen.

The poll is being conducted by 20th Century-Fox Film corporation which hopes to get 12 regional contests going and select during the premiere of "Mother Is a Freshman," the all-America freshman co-ed. Winner of the title gets a free trip to Hollywood.

Four Persons Burn to Death

WINDBER, Pa. —(AP)— Four members of a family of seven perished today in the flames of their one-room home, one and one-half miles west of Cairnbrook in Somerset county. Two others were seriously burned.

Only one in the family escaped injury—an 18-month-old baby boy.

Dead were the mother, Mrs. Anna Ross Snyder, 29, and her daughters, Nancy Janet, 5, Elizabeth June, 7; and Charlotte, 9.

Chaos Follows Rulings

Judges Blamed For Situation

BULLETIN

COLUMBUS — (INS) — The Buckeye Retail Liquor Dealers' association recommended today the abolishment of the office of state liquor director.

★

COLUMBUS—(AP)—State liquor officials struggled today with a chaotic situation, fearful their authority to control sale of whisky by the drink has been drastically curtailed.

The bars are down on Ohio bars—the quota system is overturned and police, church and school objections to applicants for permits can be ignored.

The superintendent of the Temperance League of Ohio calls the situation "a farce."

The executive secretary of the Buckeye State Sheriffs' association attacks the rulings of two Common Pleas judges which created this situation.

The Ohio Council of Churches is studying the situation and preparing to attack.

So is the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Ohio.

The state liquor department and State Liquor Director Oscar L. Fleckner find themselves impaled on the horns of a dilemma:

Fleckner may abide by the court decisions and face the wrath of police, churches, schools, sheriffs and temperance groups, or he may ignore the decisions and invite legal battles.

"I don't know what our policy will be," said Fleckner. "It must be so delicately worded that I won't want to say anything more at this time."

Fleckner put his finger in the leaking dike with a "freeze" of all new liquor permits until further notice. He called it "organizational procedure" and many attributed it to an investigation of permits issued by the previous administration.

The evidence mounts that two decisions in Franklin county Common Pleas court—one Dec. 6, 1948, and the other Dec. 21, 1948—had as much to do with it as anything.

Judge Joseph M. Clifford made the first breach in the dike Dec. 6 when he held that the 1940 federal census was not the sole basis of determining current populations.

Judge Clifford held that any "relevant and competent" evidence on current population must be accepted by the department in setting quotas.

Judge Charles A. Leach widened the breach Dec. 21 by ruling the state liquor department must not bar an applicant because it considered an area already adequately served by saloons or because of objections by police, schools or other organizations.

Defenbacher Rejected

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Governor Lausche expressed the hope today that the Senate would reconsider its action of last night when it refused to confirm Lausche's appointment of Herbert D. Defenbacher as state finance director.

By a three-vote margin, the Senate rejected the appointment when the Democratic majority got in a wrangle over the fact that Defenbacher nominally is a Republican.

Lausche stated today: "Naturally, I was distressed and disappointed. I hope that the Senate will reconsider and eventually confirm the appointment. I appointed him because he was, in my opinion, the best man available."

The governor hinted that Defenbacher might possibly be retained in some other capacity if the Senate refuses to re-consider.

Husband Arrested In Wife's Death

YOUNGSTOWN, — (INS) — A 36-year-old man was being held without charge by Youngstown police today in connection with the death of his wife in Youngstown hospital.

Police said that the husband earlier had admitted grabbing his wife on the street and pounding her head against the pavement. The attack followed an argument at home, according to police.

Radio 'Blue Book' Flouts Democracy

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A special congressional investigating committee has just handed down a 10,000 word report that finds the Federal Communications Commission has usurped judicial and legislative powers, seeks to control radio programs and "browbeats" radio applicants—charges which go even beyond those set forth by The News-Journal last year. This is the second of a series of articles on the report.

"When the commission (Federal Communications Commission) undertakes to dictate the contents and character of radio programs, it assumes an authority which has absolutely no basis in law."

A special congressional committee made this statement in its report this month to the House of Representatives on completion of a six months' investigation of the commission.

The committee stated that the famous "Blue Book," issued March 7, 1946, constituted "a deliberate step toward government control of radio."

The book is formally known as a "Report on Public Service Responsibility of Broadcast Licensees," but the committee asserts it is being used to regulate directly and indirectly the programs of radio stations.

"Any claim that the so-called 'Blue Book' is not binding by the commission on broadcasting must fall," says the committee. "The commission has, in the past, since adoption of the report set down for hearing 10 cases relative to program service."

The committee adds that this shows that the FCC assumes the "right to dictate to a broadcaster what he may or may not put on the air," in spite of the fact that

Handing Truman $50,000 In Guise Of Expense Account Called Fraud

AN AIR of splendor, extravagance and privilege has brightened the presidential office since Mr. Roosevelt's accession and even Herbert Hoover puts vines in his hair when he thinks of the institution now. By a quaint paradox, Mr. Hoover, "the Wall Street stooge," as one has often heard him called since 1932, gave us a reign that was almost morose with his rigid obeyance of the foul amendment and his personal aversion to courtly airs and plumes.

It was only when the Man of the People arrived from the Hyde Park barony to lead his angry altruists in the war on want that bottles began to clank in the kitchen and caviar to season the garbage.

Now Mr. Hoover approves more earnestly than any other a royal rate of pay for the President, plus an expense allowance fit for Lewis, Petrillo, or Tobin.

Congress finally passed a raise from $75,000 to $100,000 or 33 1-3 per cent, plus an expense allowance of $50,000, exempt from accounting and tax.

In other words whatever the President saved of the 50 grand will be his. Mr. Hoover has endorsed the sentiment if not the particulars.

To my own vandal proposal that the White House become a museum or just a memory and that the President be quartered in a modest, modern house of size and mien suitable to our pretense of homespun simplicity, Mr. Hoover raised a protest that was positively emotional for him.

He said the American people looked at the white house as a temple, our Buckingham Palace in short, and wanted their President to live there for their pleasure if not for his. No faceless man down a hole could be more naive and inconsistent. For here is a plain and humble man, who gave to charity his entire pay as president, trying to chisel and pare a few hundred paltry million from the budget that leaves reality earthbound. And yet he cannot think of the presidential office without panoply and gauds.

It is wasteful and a bad example nevertheless to raise Mr. Truman's pay and allowances and the worse to do it by the fraud proposed for the expense account.

He gets the use of a lavish dwelling plus heat, light, repairs and all the household service he wants. It is pure fiction to pretend that the President of these days draws a line between his "personal" expenses for hospitality and those which are a burden of his office.

In addition to his lavish keep, Mr. Truman gets a yacht and two airplanes fully manned and fueled. Thus his allowance for travel seems to be tapped only for partisan campaign trips.

It is not expected that the President of the United States should be able to retire wealthy on the savings from his salary. We pay him well with the understanding that he shall pay taxes as a painful example to the rest of us.

If it doesn't leave a little over that might be his fault but, anyway, he knew the salary when he asked for the job. There is fraud in the proposal to hand him the additional raise of $50,000 in the guise of an expense account subject to no accounting.

An expense account should be just that and the President and Congress tempt the lesser citizens to cheat when they get special exemptions on raises so entitled.

It is not only dangerous political custom but corrupt practice to invent crooked schemes for the profit of Congress and the President.

20th Century Needs a New Hero; Tendency Is to Follow 'Promisers'

The biggest need of the twentieth century is a new hero. And at the end of this article I will tell you who I think it has to be—for what that is worth.

Every man has to have a hero. The hero is as old as history. He is as old as the childish game, "follow the leader."

Cows, buffaloes and men are alike in the herd instinct. They all have it. And they all want to have a leader. But there is a big difference in the herd instinct of cattle and men. In cattle the leader is picked solely by muscle—his prowess in personal battle.

The young brainless bull with the powerful shoulders and the sharp horns drives away the aging bull and becomes boss. And the rest of the herd docilely accept and follow the new leader. They immediately forget the old leader, who learned wisdom from a hundred storms and a hundred battles.

They patiently tag after the newest muscle—often to a death that the caution of the defeated bull could have forestalled.

Cattle don't have a sense of criticism. They don't check up on what's behind the new chief bull's bellowing victory cry. They just know he's the strongest among them—or the one who uses his strength most cruelly.

Men do have some sense of criticism. They question their leaders—and won't follow them blindly to death without at least the expectation of a medal.

BIG-MOUTH LEADERS

And men have outgrown somewhat the cattle idea of trailing after the bull with the biggest muscle. Muscle is on sale every day in the public market. Men have reached the point where they follow the leader who has something else—the loudest mouth, the biggest promises. Or, in more glorious moments of the human epoch, they follow the boss with the finest character or the widest heart.

But in both cattle and men there is one basic reason for following the leader—the fading hope of security. They think he can lead them to it. They think the leader can take them to better fodder, guide them out of the wind's way, the world's weariness, or beyond the enemy's tearing claw and tooth.

And so, while systems falter and fresh dreams arise, the human race rears up new kinds of heroes—as the old heroes fail. And all heroes fail to the degree they don't fulfill the dream of security.

No leader ever fully satisfies the human herd. It has a series of fashions in heroes, and discards them just as women toss away yesterday's styles.

In America's brief story there has been a parade of many types of heroes—the pioneer, the warrior, the businessman, the banker, the engineer.

The depression took the glamor off the businessman and the banker. The second World War gave a brief new luster to the soldier's fame. But doubt rules the herd today. They distrust the traditional types of heroes.

There is a tendency to put their faith in politicians, who promise pensions, or in scientists, who promise a longer life or more leisure.

But the human herd still stirs with an ancient unrest. There is a nameless desire for a new type hero who will steer them past old pitfalls to peace, plenty, and freedom.

And this new hero? Why, he is the heart of the herd. He is you, the ordinary man. You are. You have to be. A democracy has to create a herd of heroes—or die.

Last Calls Get 6 County Inductees

Neighboring Areas Contribute More

Of the 1,071 Ohioans inducted into the armed forces during November and December, six men were Richland countians, state Selective Service headquarters said today.

Neighboring counties, although lers populous then Richland county, contributed more men to the armed forces under the post war draft act.

Eleven men were drafted from Holmes county, eight from Knox, 10 from Huron, seven from Ashland, eight from Morrow, and three from Crawford.

IGNORE PERCENTAGES

Col. R. E. Clouse, executive officer to Chester W. Goble, Selective Service director, said the number of men selected from each county was not based on population percentages.

He said: "We had to set up the draft machinery on short notice and get men started to induction centers. We didn't have time to set up a county quota system."

Men were taken wherever they were available."

Clouse said 20 to 80 per cent of the men examined were rejected. "That's why some counties had more men inducted than others," Clouse said.

"We would have had an equalization process started by January or February so that each county would have contributed an equal number of men based on population, but the draft machinery was shut down," Clouse said.

He said all 1,071 men were inducted before the army announced voluntary enlistments and reenlistments were sufficient to fill their quotas.

New School Lures Pupils

Absenteeism Low As Roseland Opens

In spite of bad weather, few pupils were absent among the 330 scheduled to attend the new Roseland school this morning, according to Raymond Dent, principal.

"We were surprised by the orderliness," Dent said, adding teachers expected some confusion since pupils would not know their rooms. But everything got off to an auspicious start and pupils found their rooms without any trouble, Dent said.

About 200 of the new pupils had been attending Hedges school and the remainder were at Bowman, all taken daily in buses to their respective schools.

The 12 teachers at Roseland had been assigned at the hiring of teachers last fall and had been teaching in the various buildings until the opening of the new school.

Everything was in readiness for the pupils this morning with the exception of the cafeteria. That is expected to be completed next week.

Pupils at the Roseland school will attend from the following district:

Beginning on Springmill street at the intersection of Geddes street, and continuing on Springmill in a northwesterly direction of Country Club drive, thence north on Country Club drive on an imaginary line directly north to the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, thence due west on an imaginary line to the intersection of projected Home road, thence south on the projected line of Home road to a point of intersection with the Erie railroad. Thence east on the north side of the Erie railroad to the intersection of Geddes street, thence east on Geddes street taking both the north and south side of Geddes street to the intersection of Springmill.

Comes Through With Flying Colors

Tire Worker First Blood Donor

The first man to give a pint of blood in the blood donor project of the Red Cross yesterday was husky Earl Blackburn.

An employe of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company, he is one of hundreds whom the Red Cross is hoping will aid Mansfield and Richland county in reaching its quota of life-giving blood.

Blackburn came through the process with flying colors, although he admitted he felt a "little funny" and was glad to drink the strong coffee and eat the ham sandwiches provided by the Red Cross for all donors.

It took about a half hour for Blackburn to go through the tests which all donors receive and give his blood for some unknown benefactor. Yesterday afternoon he went to work on the late shift at the Mansfield Tire almost as fit as usual.

Blackburn's appointment was at 10:45 a. m. Even before he left the chapter house, his blood had been bottled and sealed and by last night was on its way to the unknown person to whom it may some day mean the difference between life and death.

By this morning, at the laboratory, in Columbus, skilled technicians were analyzing Blackburn's sample of blood, verifying his type, checking it for RH factor and testing it for medical use.

TAGGED AND DATED

If Blackburn's blood is used as whole blood, it will be clearly tagged as to type, dated to insure use within the next three weeks and packed in refrigerated cases, and kept at a constant temperature of four to six degrees above zero. Then it goes to a hospital, perhaps to General hospital here, and is stored until someone with a type of blood similar to the Blackburn's is needed for an emergency.

GIVES HIS SHARE—Earl Blackburn, employe of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company, gave his pint of blood when the National Red Cross Bloodmobile came to Mansfield yesterday. The Bloodmobile remained in Mansfield today. It is under the direction of Dr. Elizabeth Lande of Columbus.

"When your blood is put to work as whole blood, it may go into the veins of a man, woman or child who has lost too much blood in an accident," Dr. Elizabeth Lande, doctor from Columbus, who accompanied the Bloodmobile here, explained. "It may save the life of someone who has been badly burned in a fire or explosion or it may stop a fatal hemorrhage during an operation or strengthen a patient for a needed operation."

Besides whole blood, there are blood fractions that are processed by a whirling machine and separated into different elements. After this process is completed by technicians, thhe fractions may be used in liquid, powdered, film or paste form for medical purposes.

In this form it may protect a baby from measles; it may replace delicate tissue removed in brain or nerve surgery; it may correct anaemia, heal open wounds or bring a patient out of shock.

Small booklets containing this information are given to each donor. On the final page of this booklet is the question, "Will you tell your friends?"

"We're all going to have to tell our friends, if we want Mansfield along with the other cities and towns in Ohio, to make its quota of blood," said Mrs. Stuart Weaver, blood donor chairman. "This is not just a Red Cross project. It is a community project for every man and woman between the ages of 21 and 59 who is fit to donate blood. We need donors and need them badly."

Carpenter Heads List

Carpenter elementary school led the list of Mansfield schools in attendance during the period from Nov. 29 to Dec. 17 inclusive, according to a report from Supt. W. L. Miller. Its percentage of attendance was 94.46.

A close second was Bushnell school with 93.39 per cent of attendance. Rebecca Grubaugh was third with 94.10 per cent.

Ten schools reported no cases of truancy, including the deaf, the Sunshine school and the Sight Saving school. The others were Brinkerhoff, Rebecca Grubaugh, Hedges, Newman, Prospect, West Fifth street, and Woodland school.

A total of 3,496 pupils were neither absent nor tardy during the period covered by the report.

The December report of the distributive education class showed its 23 pupils worked a total of 4,071 hours at an average wage of 67 cents an hour, earning $2,717. The average earning per week were $28.14 for 42 hours. Highest earnings were $192 for the month.

Mastersingers, Solo Artist Win Ovation

By NITA BRANSON

The near-capacity audience, which heard the Mastersingers and their guest artist, Frank Guerrara, Metropolitan baritone, present the annual mid-winter concert at John Simpson, last night, hailed the event as a rare musical treat.

The Mastersingers were never in finer form and Guerrara's voice is truly notable. The chorus, under the direction of A. LeMoine Derr, hit every note with precision and brilliance.

Particularly noticeable last night, too, was the Mastersingers' own love of singing. They sang as if they loved every note.

Guerrara, a baritone, has a big voice, yet so perfect is his control that his muted notes were as artistically true as his more showy, fortissimo ones. That ability to descend with suddenness from fortissimo tones to those of pianissimo was particularly evident also in the Mastersingers' productions.

Guerrara showed his dramatic personality and his ability to express in tone the mood of his song in Torelli's "Tu lo sai" and Tschaikowsky's "None But the Lonely Heart."

Delightful were his Figaro's aria from "The Barber of Seville" and the Toreador song from "Carmen." Both received enthusiastic acclaim from the audience as encores.

Dr. F. A. Hoffman was the Mastersingers' accompanist and Mrs. Margaret Hall accompanied Guerrara.

Opening with the rousing "Battle Hymn of the Republic" the Mastersingers last night showed their versatility in the musical comedy numbers from "State Fair," "Carousel" and "Oklahoma." So resounding was the applause for "Oklahoma" that the Mastersingers repeated the last phase of it as one of their encores.

For contrast, the "Welsh Choral," a beautiful, reverent hymn, sung in the first half of the program, proved beyond a doubt that the Mansfield chorus is equally at home in serious music.

The concert will be repeated at 8:15 p. m. tonight. Tonight's concert, officials said, is a sell-out.

WEATHERMAN, TOO—

Frank Burton, city park superintendent, is toying with the idea of becoming a weatherman. He said today skating enthusiasts are calling him at his home to ask is there is any ice on the lake. When he tells them there isn't, they ask, "When will there be some?"

IT WAS CORRECTED—

A lot of people have been wondering about the picture in the Jan. 14th issue of The News-Journal which showed a man, chin in hand, looking over a cake of ice. Under the picture, the caption read "Take a Second Look," and went on to tell about a shepherd dog that played wet nurse for a wide variety of animals. One reader wrote that he looked a third anad fourth time, but failed to see either dog or calf. The wrong caption was put under the picture and in the final edition of the paper, the mistake was corrected.

'Tricky' Auto Proves Costly

A car that "did tricks" on State Route 13 last night cost Ernest M. Downard, 22, of the Phoenix hotel $15 and costs today in municipal court.

Charged with unsafe operation, Downard pleaded guilty and also was given a 60-day license suspension.

Called to the scene of the accident at 10:30 p. m. yesterday, sheriff's deputies found Downard walking back towards town.

Deputies said the car was wedged deep into a ditch and had a flat tire. Downard said it was the second ditch the car had been in within a few minutes. It all started, he explained, when the car left the road, ripped off five or more mailboxes, went into the ditch when Downard attempted to turn it around, was then pulled out and went into another ditch.

Unbeaten Ontario Plays Union Five In County League

Only one game—Ontario at Union— is on the docket for play in the Richland county basketball league tonight.

The contest was originally scheduled Jan. 7 but was postponed because of a failure in the Union heating system.

Ontario is gunning for its tenth straight victory, nine of which have been in league play. Two other county teams will engage non-loop foes. Bellville is to be host to Perrysville in an expected thriller while Plymouth entertains New London. Perrysville, winner of 12 of fourteen starts, beat Bellville, 52-47 last month.

Senior High Seeks Jinx End Tonight

Mansfield Senior high school heads into the second half of its 1948-49 basketball schedule tonight at Bellevue, still combatting a court disease which is reaching big proportions.

It's the inability of the Tygers to win away from home. The Senior high cagers have had little trouble winning five straight at home but have lost four of five on the road. Coach Vern Hoffman's crew won its first road game with Elyria, 49 to 30, but has lost to Bexley, Greenfield McClain, Lima Central and New Philadelphia in that order.

AVERAGE 49.6

During the first half of the campaign, the Tygers averaged 49.6 points per game to 43.3 for the opposition. Last Friday in winning its 16th straight at home, Senior high displayed its best defense in a month and its second lowest offensive of the season. The Tygers edged Springfield, 37-to 36.

Normally, Senior high would be favored to take over Bellevue. But that road jinx has made the result strictly problematical. Norb Shibinski, Paul Ferguson and Ed Demyan all contributed in the Tygers 50-to-34 victory over the Redmen in 1948.

Shibinski had nine points, Ferguson was held scoreless and Demyan picked up three in a sub's role. The veteran Milt Bruckner had seven, Ted Fox five and Jim Lepley, four for Bellevue. They are the lone Redmen lettermen.

ADDS TO WOES

To add to the Tygers woes, a look at the Bellevue record is all that is necessary. The Redmen have won eight of 12, specializing in close decisions. However, Bellevue has not lost a game at home this season.

The Redmen have been defeated by Findlay, 20 to 28; Lorain, 43 to 47; Ashland, 43 to 44 and Norwalk, 29 to 31. Victories have been over Alumni, 38 to 37; Bowling Green, 44 to 42; Upper Sandusky, 43 to 39; Ashland, 44 to 42; Willard, 39 to 34; Port Clinton, 47 to 45; Galion, 56 to 32 and Fremont Ross, 38 to 37.

Senior high will have a slight advantage in the heighth department. The Tygers average a bit above six-foot while Bellevue goes at 5-11. Center Ardin Long is the tallest at 6-1½ while Buckner and Fox each go at six-foot. Lepley is 5-9 and Sam DeBlase, the fifth star term stands 5-10.

TWO INJURED

Joe Ayers, assistant basketball coach last year, is heading the Redmen this season. His squad was hit by injuries last night. Forward Don Adams, a starter, suffered torn ligaments in his knee while Harry Coe, a varsity squadman last season, suffered a sprained ankle. Neither will be in uniform tonight.

The Tyger varsity and sophomore squads were scheduled to leave by bus today at 4.30 p. m.

★

Warring Clubowners Talk About Pro Football Peace

By CHARLES EINSTEIN

CHICAGO—(INS)—Enough tales of war and peace to give Tolstoy a sequel circulated through downtown Chicago hotels today with the gathering of professional football's warring club owners.

The All-America conference, reportedly about to be swallowed up in the maw of the National Football league, had the floor for the moment. Club owners of the AAC were to meet secretly in the Chicago office of their most influential member, Ben Lindheimer of the Los Angeles Dons, this morning.

National leaguers, meanwhile, were arriving in the logically-named Windy City for their own winter meetings which begin tomorrow night.

Although officials of both camps steadfastly denied that one league would so much as nod at the other during these strictly coincidental caucuses, the traffic between rival hotels was enough to keep local taxicab firms in a high state of glee.

LUNCHEON DATE

It was bruited about that George Halas of the NFL Chicago Bears and Mickey McBride of the AAC Cleveland Browns had a running luncheon date that was supposed to be kept yesterday, today, and undoubtedly tomorrow.

In the midst of all this, Adm. Jonas Ingram, soon-to-retire commissioner of the AAC, set forth his own blueprint for peace between the leagues.

"The only long-range solution to the professional football problem," Adm. Ingram said, "is the continuance of two separate leagues observing certain businesslike working agreements."

45 Thinclads Working With Tyger Squad

Forty-five youngsters are working out with the Senior high indoor track squad after school at the Coliseum.

The squad is headed by such veteran cinderpath artists as Tom Tucker, Lou Gregoria, John Bricker, Harry Osbun, George Russell, Don Cline, Paul Hammond, Rudy Sheetz, Alan Poorman and Jerry Gerrell.

Coach Harry Mehock hopes to line up two indoor meets next month with the Denison university freshman team. He also has requests out to Cleveland Rhodes and Columbus East. Last year, the Bengal indoor squad broke even in two meets with Ashland. The A's since have given up indoor track.

Other squad members are:

Dashes—John Petty, Norman Drake, Sonny Wadlington, Harry Carr, Clarence Bailey, Gene Ayers and Don Green.

440-yard dash — John Todd, Howard Guegold, Howard Baker, Junior Davis, Jim Kibler, Floyd Guegold, Jim Toubey, Lowell Harris, Ron Williams, Jack Wise and John Mergel.

Mile—Paul Leight, John Wakely and Dick Miller.

Shot put—Ken Snyder, Jim Cook, Tom Weaver, Bob Hipp and Jim Miller.

Pole vault—Bill Stutz and Jay Herbert.

Hurdles — Wadlington, Bailey, Drake and Petty.

High jump—Wadlington.

Louis Exhibits

TOLEDO —(UP)— Joe Louis, displaying little of the talent that made him heavyweight champion of the world, staved off the rushes of young Art Swiden of Pittsburgh in a no-decision four-round exhibition in civic auditorium last night.

Brinkerhoff 5, Carpenter Win Grade Games

Brinkerhoff and Carpenter scored overwhelming victories in grade school league basketball games yesterday.

Carpenter took a 16-1 decision over Woodland in the most lopsided game of the season, while Brinkerhoff trimmed Hedges, 13-7. Larry Zartman led Brinkerhoff with six points. Reserve games were won by Hedges, 11-4, and Carpenter 11-5.

Assault Plans Return to War

NEW YORK, — (INS) — Assault, that gimpy little gamester whom no turf fan ever will forget, was back in the headlines again today.

Word comes from the King ranch in Texas that the 1946 triple crown winner, who was sidelined last may as a broken horse, may try a comeback.

This development changes the whole picture in the scramble for the honor of becoming the first thoroughbred in the world to earn a million dollars in purses.

Just to set the record straight, the official standing of the leaders at the moment is Stymie, $911,335; Citation, $865,150; Armed, $773,700, and Assault, $626,620.

Just Won't Say

MADISON, Wis. — (UP) — Ivan Williamson, head football coach at Lafayette college, said today that he was "unable to indicate" whether he would accept a similar post at the University of Wisconsin if he is offered the job.

Methodist 5 Seeks Sixth

Unbeaten First Methodist needs only a win over Ontario Community tonight to cinch the first round championship of the YMCA Senior Church basketball league.

The Methodists have romped to five straight victories while Ontario holds onto fourth place with three wins and two defeats. This game is listed for 8 p. m., following the opener between Park Avenue Baptist and Lucas Lutheran.

If Ontario should upset the leaders, the Baptists could tie for the top rung with a win over Lucas. Park Avenue has copped four of five. In the third contest, United Brethren meets First Christian.

Joe Collins Dies

SPRINGFIELD — (AP) — Joseph A. Collins, veteran minor league baseball player, died here yesterday. He was 65. Collins was in the Central league from 1905 to 1907, and was with Springfield when it won the pennant in 1907.

Sport Center, Penn Win 'A' Loop Games

Ohio Sport Center and Penn Auto & Sporting Goods increased their stature in the City A basketball league last night at the John Simpson gym. Both teams maintained undefeated records in the second half of competition.

Sport Center, first round champs, won its third straight by rolling over Richland Beverage, 46 to 35. The Beverage club led at the quarter, 7-6 and at the half, 22 to 17, but fell out of the running in the third period, 28 to 36.

Lanky Red Worthley was the big gun for the Sportsmen with 22 tallies.

Penn Auto knocked Martin Hardware off the unbeaten list, 40 to 39, in last night's finale. The lead see-sawed after Penn took a 10-to-8 margin in the first heat. Hardware led at the half, 21 to 20, but Penn went back atop, 32-31, as the final period opened.

URSCHEL LOSES

Urschel Insurance, the 1948 city champion, continues to take its lumps. A bad fourth quarter cost cost Urschel's a 35-to-31 beating at the hands of Komito's Clothes. The Insurance quintet had led by periods, 12 to 9, 20 to 13 and 30 to 22.

Reese Quintet Ties Cigarmen For Loop Lead

Reese Optical knocked Westinghouse out of the undefeated ranks in the top tussle in the Class B American basketball league, 36 to 33, last night at Senior high school.

Reese came from far behind in the fourth quarter to gain its second straight and tie Main Cigar store for the loop lead. Westinghouse led, 27 to 21, going into the last quarter. Sub Hager's basket with 15 seconds to go iced the game. Bob Sands, league scoring leader, was held to one fielder by the Reese five.

The Cigarmen romped over Ideal Billiards, 42 to 24, as Edmonstone and Bunk Reynolds combined for 27 points.

In the third contest, Mansfield Tire defeated Shorty's News, 42 to 20. Bobby Baker of Mansfield Tire notched 17 points.

Rams Battle Rugged Foe In 'Big' Tilt

By CHARLEY STINE

The old tournament fever which hits high school basketball teams every spring is coming a little early this year at Madison high school.

For as far as the Madison players are concerned, tonight is THE game.

The Rams are scheduled to invade Fredericktown and according to Ram coach Blaine Dowler, tension in the school is at its highest pitch of the season.

"The boys really want this one," Dowler reported. "Its the first time this year we've been really hopped up before game time."

LONG WIN STREAK

Reason for all the concern at the Rams school is the 14-game winning streak of the Fredericktown team. The Freddies have had little trouble with any regularly scheduled foe and played on about even terms in a scrimmage with Senior high. Their latest outing was a double-header conquest of Gambier and Edison last Friday.

On the other hand, Madison has won six of eight games, including its last three in a row and is in fair physical shape for the contest. Center Joe Distl, who has not been able to go the route since before the holidays, will be back in uniform tonight and will be used as a substitute. His back will be heavily taped, however, and just how sharp he will be is uncertain.

Meanwhile, Russ Glenn, who did

Southworth Just 'Ain't A Saying'

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Boston's Braves may — or may not — win the National league pennant again this year Manager Billy Southworth just 'ain't a-saying."

Billy the Kid, recovering from a bad cold, lolled in a big chair in front of the fireplace at his country home near Sunbury just up route 3 from Ohio's capital, as he took a look today at the big league situation.

"We'll be there or thereabouts the way it looks now," he said.

"But to say we'll win the pennant again would show a lack of baseball intelligence. We have a training season to go through and then an entire season. Too many things can happen over that time.

"It's a lot tougher to win the second time than the first for a lot of reasons. For one thing the opposition is gunning for you and you're always looking at their best pitchers.

"Then, too, It's tough to keep a pennant-winning team on its toes. All the wining and dining that comes the way of the champions in the off-season tends to lull them into a feeling of complacency. If you get away to a bad start, it's tough to get up to the peak again.

"One thing you must remember — last year's hits don't win this year's games."

Billy dropped his house-slippered feet off a kitchen chair and stirred up the log fire, sat down again and resumed:

"A lot of folk said we were lucky last year, winning with what they called a bunch of misfits and castoffs. But if you'll look at the record you'll see that we led the league in hitting and were third in fielding.

"We had a fighting ball club, made up of players working under the best possible conditions. I've never ceased being a player, and we operate under a sort of golden rule. We have regulations, and we aren't lax in enforcing them, but we get the best of cooperation because our boys are getting into the game and not riding the bench.

"We had three serious injuries last year when Stanky, Russell and Heath went out of the game, but we didn't talk too much about it. That would have been poor psychology to use on the rest of our boys — so our kids just took up another notch in their belts and went ahead."

Ohio State Retains Slim Chance For Big 9 Title

Bucks Nip Badgers Without Point Ace

MADISON, Wis.—(UP)—Ohio State's basketball team still had a slim chance to capture the Big Nine title today following the Bucks' victory over Wisconsin here last night, 57-54.

Whether the Bucks will make the grade depends a lot on when Forward Dick Schnittker, Ohio's top scorer, gets out of the hospital. Schnittker was left behind at University hospital, Iowa City, with an infected throat. The Bucks have dropped two conference games so far in the race. If they can win the rest of the games, they'll rank on or near the top.

Coach Tippy Dye's cagers came from behind in the final minute or play to whip the Badgers. It was the second Big Nine win for the Bucks and the third defeat for Wisconsin

SEVEN IN TWO

Jim Remington, Bob Raidiger and Ted Jacobs pooled their talents to lop in seven baskets in the last two minutes and raise the Buckeyes from a 50-43 deficit to their final victory.

Raidiger was the top man of the evening with 23 points on nine baskets and five free throws. Don Rehfeldt, Wisconsin's scoring ace, was held to 17 points by Ohio State's alert defense.

The Badgers took a nearly 7-3 lead but by the half Ohio was in front, 26-25. It was a see-saw contest during the final half, with the score being tied twice before Wisconsin took their 50-43 lead.

Akron Drops To 'Defeated' Hardwood List

NEW YORK, — (UP) — The 1949 college basketball season today reached the point where you could count the major unbeaten teams on the fingers of one hand —just five.

The latest name to be scratched from the hallowed list was Akron university. After winning 10 straight games since the start of the season, Akron received a thorough 63 to 43 shellacking from Duquesne last night.

It was the 10th victory in 11 games for the iron dukes, who were inside the charmed circle themselves until a short time ago when they were dumped by Yale

GOPHERS RAP IOWA

Minnesota, looming as the titan of the big nine, kept its place among the unbeaten by trouncing big nine rival Iowa, 61 to 45, for its 12th victory. The four other select are Villanova, Hamline, St. Louis, and Western Kentucky.

Hamline (11-0) will place its record on the line tonight against Augsburg and Western Kentucky (12-0) will also be in action against Memphis state.

In other big nine games, Ohio State, minus ailing star Dick Schnittker, got a 23-point job from Bob Raidiger and rallied in the closing minutes to beat Wisconsin, 57-54; while 15 points by Bill Tosheff led Indiana to an upset 56-42 victory over Purdue.

The Kentucky wildcats, whose only loss in 12 games was by one basket to St. Louis, gained their latest victory by a 56 to 45 score over Georgia Tech.

DiMag to Ask For $75,000

NEW YORK — (INS) — If you hear a snapping sound in the next day or two, it likely will be the rubber band coming off the bankroll of the New York American league baseball club.

Joe DiMaggio is in town to affix his John Hancock to a 1949 contract, and sources close to the yankee clipper say he will ask for $75,000, plus the attendance bonus which he received last year in addition to an estimated $62,000.

Such a deal will make Joe just about the highest-paid ball player in the game.

Wise Takes Job

ATHENS —(UP)— Speculation over future plans of Harold Wise, who resigned as head football coach at Ohio university early this month, ended today with the announcement that he had joined an Athens manufacturing firm.

Madison Battles Rugged Freddies In 'Big' Contest

a fine job as a replacement against Loudonville, will carry on in Distl's starting role. Ray "Dutch" Bader will jump center with Glenn taking over his forward post.

ONE COMMON FOE

Only comparison that can be made between Madison and the Freddies is with Lexington, their only common opponent. Fredericktown rolled over Lexington, 52-32, while Madison won by 41-38.

One thing that the game is certain to produce is a brilliant battle of the backboards, since both teams have a reputation for winning by controlling rebounds

Both varsity and reserve players are to leave Madison in a special bus at 6:15. No student bus will be taken. Madison will be seeking its fourth straight reserve victory in the 7.30 p. m. preliminary.

Nugent Steps Up From High Post

LEXINGTON, Va., — (AP) — Tom Nugent, new head coach of football of Virginia Military Institute, is one of comparatively few fellows who has managed to step from the ranks of high school coaching to boss of a major college gridiron team.

The 36-year-old Nugent, for the last two seasons head coach at Hopewell, Va., high school, was named last night by the VMI athletic council to succeed Arthur (Slick) Morton. Morton resigned Dec. 31 after two seasons here to become head coach at Mississippi state college.

Esbenshade Victor In Ring Main Event; Friendly House Fighters Win 4 Bouts

Don Esbenshade, a talented young ring workman, featured the AAU boxing show at the Friendly House last night by taking a clean-cut decision over Charles Farina, Galion middleweight, in a rousing main go.

The 157-pound Senior high student kept on top of the veteran Galion puncher all the way and scored heavily with lefts and rights to the body. The main eventer was easily the best match of the night and a repeat triumph for Esbenshade. In the finals of the 1948 Friendly House ring tourney, the Mansfield lad scored a close decision over Farina.

With Esbenshade leading the way, F-H fighters won four of the nine decision bouts. Marion fighters won two bouts and Galion took three in the show sponsored by the Friendly House and 40 et 8 club.

LOSES SOMETHING

A streamlined Billy Eccles seemed to have lost something besides weight when he bowed to Jack Seckinger, Golden Gloves veteran, in the semi-windup. Eccles had lost 30 pounds from his fighting weight of last year, when he was second in the F-H tourney and copped the Senior high school light-heavy crown.

Fighting as a welter last night, Eccles relied on football charging tactics for his No. 1 offensive weapon and the taller Seckinger piled up points at will.

Esbenshade has now won seven of nine amateur goes while Eccles holds nine wins and three defeats.

Another surprise was Dick James, Marion. He was losing to Howard Carney, a F-H king, in the first round when he uncorked a long haymaker from the floor to kayo the Mansfield fighter in 1:54

F-H VICTORS

Ralph Grier, Gene Ayers and Bill Eberhardt were the other Mansfield lads to come out on top. Grier, a southpaw, won a much-booed split decision from Billy LaRue, Galion, in the first bout. Ayers featured a two-handed attack in cutting Bill Franklin, Marion, down. The Marion lad was unable to answer the bell for round two.

Coming back after an absence of a year, Eberhardt had little trouble with Chuck Currens, Marion, in one of the better battles on the card.

Howard Kocheiser, Galion, copped a split decision slugging match from Larry Inscore, 1948 Senior high ring king

The other victors were Howard Dickson and Red Mathias, six-foot plus heavyweight, both from Galion.

BATTLE ROYAL KIDS

Bruce Heinberger and Cecil Wright, both of the F-H. met in an exhibition match while Matchmaker Mike Wentz presented his well-liked battle royal kids. Bob Pittenger, Bud Kent, John McQuillon, Del Wright, Cecil Thompson and Joe Morganstern traded blows in the "royal."

One of the biggest crowds ever to see a fight show in the small F-H gym filled the arena. The SRO sign went up some 45 minutes before the opening bout.

★

Wentz announced last night that the annual Friendly House boxing tournament will be staged Jan. 31 and Feb 1 If advance sale of tickets warrants an attempt will be made to stage the show in a bigger arena.

The summaries.

Ralph Grier, F-H 139 won split decision from Billy LaRue Galion 143

Howard Dickson Galion 131 won a TKO over Carl Whistler F-H, 133, in third round

Gene Ayers F-H, 126 won a TKO over Bill Franklin, Marion, 123, in second round

Howard Kocheiser, Galion, 138, won split decision over Larry Inscore, F-H 139

St. Louis Billikens Tops In First AP Basketball Poll

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Unbeaten St. Louis university today was voted the top college basketball team in the nation.

In a coast to coast poll, first in the sport ever conducted by the Associated Press, the brilliant Billikens from Missouri received 69 first place votes out of 93 ballots to lead runner-up Kentucky by a wide margin. Coach Ed Hickey's fast breaking crew has whipped 11 straight foes this season.

In addition to its first place nominations, St. Louis drew 23 second place votes and one fourth for a winning 904 points, to gain the honor of being named on all ballots. Kentucky was the only other quintet to receive recognition by all the experts, but got only 16 first place votes to finish second with 842 points. The Wildcats garnered 67 second place votes, nine thirds and one fourth. Kentucky's only loss in 12 games was to St. Louis, 42-40.

HILLTOPPERS THIRD

Western Kentucky, one of the country's five undefeated fives, placed third with 545 points. Only team to be mentioned for all 10 places, the Hilltoppers squeezed out only two firsts, but bagged 43 thirds to edge out fourth place Minnesota.

The Gophers, triumphant in all their 12 starts, earned fourth place with three first place votes and 480 points.

The Oklahoma Aggies, only team to receive first place mention, landed fifth place on three firsts and 289 points.

232 Exhibitions

NEW YORK — (UP) —A total of 232 spring exhibition games will be played by national league clubs starting March 12, The New York Giants and Chicago Cubs topping the list with 36 contests each, the circuit's service bureau disclosed today.

Back to School

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Minor league baseball executives were scheduled to return to "school" today for classes in rules discussion, community cooperation and promotions for second division clubs.

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Mel Patton, the latest "world's fastest human," has hung up his ikes.

The Olympic 200-meter champion and holder of the unofficial world's record for the 100-yard dash will pass up his final year of competition at the University of Southern California because he has to support his wife and daughter. The university made the announcement yesterday.

BOWLING GREEN — (UP) — Max Minnich and Vern Dunham last night were named Bowling Green state university's most valuable football players in 1948.

Condos Hits Initial 600 In Pin League

George Condos, the genial public relations man of Tappan Stove, was the "boastingest" man in town today after firing the only honor roll score in six leagues last night.

A twice-a-week bowler with a 169 average, George hit the first 600 in his life and did it with plenty to spare. He put together games of 212, 190 and 234 for a 636 series to lead the Lions to a three game sweep over second-place University Club in the Club league at Colony.

The Schoolmasters took two of three games from Amima to move three games in front of the rest of the loop.

Bob Lynch of University club was runner-up for individual honors with 172-210-203—585. Robert Eller of Baku Grotto had 194-150-238—582 and Art Hilborn of the Optimists posted 576. Max Worthley, University club, had 563, Peterson of the Schoolmasters, 559, Jim Will, American Legion, 551; and Burke Schnittke, Baku Grotto, 545

Evelyn Marshman and Thelma Cox tied for honors in the Women's Variety league with 518's. Evelyn, rolling for Lanmore Realty, had games of 144, 191 and 183 while Thelma, leadoff for Farmer's Market, had 153, 189, and 176.

Third went to Mary Thodosoff, South Boulevard Market, with 164-177-169—510. Others, Arlene Peters, Wilson Auto Sales, 504; Florence Handwork, National Cash Register, 501; Billy Cleckner, South Boulevards, 490 and Donna Schuster, Farmer's, 480.

Handwork had a 221.

Tom Marks was top man in the Richland A league with a 223-180-175—578 score for McCarrick's Gulf. Orile Grable of Richland Recreation was runner-up with 190-192-190—572, while E Robertson of Oak Park Tavern posted 563.

Win Cleckner, Kozak Distributing had 557, H. Bosh, Williams Transportation, 538; Dale Cleckner, 538, and M. Rohal, Oak Park, and R. Mowers, Ohio Sport Center, 533.

First place in the Commercial C league was shared by Elmer Myers of Pioneer Printers and Gene Cusic of Tinkey Lumber, with 584: Myers had games of 211, 217 and 156, while Cusic had 190-180-214.

B. Lowe of Montgomery Ward had the best single game, 245, and was runner-up for series honors with a 570 score. Charles Bauer, Mansfield Tire, had 565; Bob Hilborn, Tinkey Lumber, 562; Bud McKee, Tinkey Lumber, 560.

The tough little Gorman-Rupp circuit was led by Cliff Penroes with 192-185-210—587. Earl Turner had a 205 single game and 525 series, and Dick Noblet had a 507.

Charm Fashion was "hot" in the Richland C handicap league. Three of its bowlers hit the 500 level Gene Rudolph led with 517, J. Rhoads had 516 and C. Ludwig took an even 500. Individual honors for the loop, however, went to Marty Pahls, who had 538.

Chemicals Lead Brief Flurry But Market Trading Drops

NEW YORK — (AP) — A try for higher price levels all but fizzled out in the stock market today.

Leading issues were marked up briskly at the opening but that was about as far as they got.

Activity slowed down after the opening rush of orders was taken care of.

The chemical group did better than average but on limited turnover. Gains running to more than two points were posted for DuPont, Allied Chemical, Dow Chemical and Virginia-Carolina Chemical common and preferred.

American Telephone dug in for a stand after three sessions of heavy pressure. The stock sold fractionally higher most of the time.

WHILE affairs generally seem to reach new heights of attainment and fulfilled ambitions, with marked pleasure, self-expression and gratification, yet a sudden turn, a misstep, a mistake in judgment, or unforeseen contacts are likely to dampen such treasured prospects, with probable unexpected reactions of a purely personal nature. Conflicts through jealousy, hurt, strange drives, excess or rash inclinations, block or upset cherished hopes and desires. Protect all from abrupt and ill advised moves or suspicious contacts inciting estrangements.

Strategic Plans Should Precede Atlantic Pact

The confidential discussions about a North Atlantic pact, which Mr. Lovett conducted during the summer and autumn, are approaching the point where a crucial question arises. It is whether our partners in Europe fully understand what Americans understand by the "constitutional processes" which were referred to in the original Vandenberg revolution.

It is not easy for European statesmen and diplomats to understand the American constitutional system and usages in foreign affairs. Even the very few—and they are remarkably few—who have studied our peculiar system seriously cannot altogether believe that its peculiarity will not somehow disappear. They are used to alliances, entered into by the government of the day, which commit future governments to go to war under certain circumstances.

The peculiarity of the American system is that the United States cannot make an alliance of this sort. For though the Senate can ratify a treaty, only the Congress can declare war. No treaty can supersede this sovereign power of the Congress. No future Congress can be bound to go to war by a treaty ratified by the Senate in some one Congress. So well is this understood by Americans that the Senate could not even be asked to ratify such a treaty of alliance.

Now I have no doubt whatever that all this has been carefully and thoroughly explained by Mr. Lovett and his associates. Nor is there any possibility that the draft of the North Atlantic pact will not make our constitutional limitations explicit.

Nevertheless, there is a grave danger of a misunderstanding in Europe. It will be very difficult for the European public to grasp the fact that months have been devoted to confidential negotiations for what is widely described as a defensive alliance, and yet that juridically it cannot be an alliance, as Europeans understand the word.

Their difficulty will be augmented if the proposed pact is more or less formally agreed to by them before it is published and subjected to open debate in the United States. No matter what the language of the pact, they will be unable to believe that the Senate is not morally committed by the confidential discussion to ratify without material changes, and that this ratification will not be a moral commitment, larger than the words of the pact, for the future.

THE WAY OUT

There is, however, a practical way to deal with this difficulty. What the Western European nations most need from us is a sure knowledge that if they are attacked in Europe by the Soviet Union, we shall be ready, on the basis of plans and preparations made in advance, to become at once a fighting ally. Now this sure knowledge can be given them only if their strategical plans and ours are worked out together, and if we assist them in rearming.

The theory on which we are now proceeding is that such concrete measures can be taken only if first a formal pact has been ratified. But is that true? What is to prevent the President as Commander in Chief from agreeing, after consultation with Congress, to the appointment of an American officer as supreme commander of the Western powers? And what is to prevent this Congress from authorizing the appropriation of funds to be used in strengthening the defenses of Western Europe?

If measures of this sort preceded the formal pact, instead of depending upon it, the alliance would exist de facto in its most impressive, concrete, and immediate form. The constitutional difficulties of a juridical alliance for the indefinite future would fall into their proper perspective.

Many other difficulties, which may otherwise be unsurmountable, would be reduced. The threat of a Soviet invasion of Western Europe is now known to be much less than it was believed to be last spring. Nevertheless, the threat remains, and it cannot be dismissed as negligible as long as the Red Army is in the center of Europe.

The purpose of an alliance with Western Europe is to neutralize this threat. But the real and constant object of diplomacy must be not to neutralize but to end the threat by a settlement which brings about the military evacuation of Europe. That object demands immediate specific measures, not abstract, long-range juridical formulae.

These immediate specific measures should be taken before we have to debate the many serious questions which a formal pact inevitably presents.

If You Yell, People Will Yell Right Back, Researchers Prove

GAMBIER — (AP) — Shout at people and they'll holler right back at you. Speak softly, and they'll give you a soft answer.

That sounds like common knowledge dating back to the stone age. Any way, scientific researchers have found it to be true.

The Kenyon college speech research unit reported today its tests showed that folks just cannot help shouting when they are shouted at.

The researchers asked a group of Kenyon students a series of simple questions at varying degrees of loudness. Sure enough, the answers came back soft or loud, in keeping with the questioner's voice.

Even when the students were told to reply in a uniform tone, they just couldn't help pitching their voices in the same key as the questioner's.

The college research unit carried on the tests under a contract with the office of naval research. They are part of a series of experiments under way at the naval air training base in Pensacola, Fla.

Dr. John Black, professor of speech at Kenyon, is directing the research here. It is considered of value in training naval personnel to communicate efficiently in airplanes and on shipboard.

Dr. Black began his voice communications research for the navy during the war. His findings include:

(1) Around 120 words a minute if the most efficient rate of speaking to be understood.

(2) A loud intensity, just short of shouting, is most effective when speaking over communications equipment in competition with noise, in a boiler factory, for instance.

(3) Loud shouting cuts down the listener's understanding.

(4) Under conditions of intense noise, men from the middle west can be understood better than southerners or easterners.

(5) The intelligibility of a word increases with the number of syllables. That is, polysyllabic ("ten dollar") words can be better understood than four letter words — over communications equipment.

Employment Lag Starts To Show Up

Mansfield Picture Better Than Average

With claims for unemployment compensation mounting steadily throughout the state since the latter part of October, the Mansfield office has been handling an increased number of unemployment compensation applications within the past month, it was reported today by C. W. Handley, manager of the local office.

The rise in Mansfield applications did not start until December, Handley said, although other offices throughout the state reported increases as far back as three months ago. He attributed this to the diversity of industry in Mansfield, as well as to the good business practices of Mansfield management.

Despite 48,477 claims filed last month throughout the state, Frank J. Collopy, administrator of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, said there is no indication the peak has been reached.

The December claims figure represented a 48 per cent jump from November, with the December total 50 per cent greater than for the same period in 1947. However, the figure represented only a four per cent increase over December of 1946, Collopy said.

The Compensation administrator pointed out that unemployment compensation claims normally increase in the fall, but that the current rise began somewhat earlier than usual. He cautioned that the bureau was in no position to predict the future employment picture, but only to cite the facts on the existing situation.

Handley explained, however, that the local increase in compensation applications, Richland county had nearly 3,000 more persons employed during the past 12-month period than during 1946 and the early part of 1947.

The Mansfield situation was comparable to the state picture in that seasonable lay-offs are expected in the construction trades and retail stores at this time of year, he said, while lack of orders for factory products and consequent production cuts play a part, as has the shortage of certain basic materials, such as steel.

The average weekly check for total unemployment last month in the state was $18.59, representing an increase for the sixth consecutive month, Handley said. Layoffs in the higher-wage industries account for this rise, it was learned. The state administrator reported compensation applications were eight per cent above December, 1947, but a full 33 per cent below the December, 1946 period.

Lausche Hurls New Blows In War Against 'Blind' Sheriffs

'Big Time' Gambling Under Fire

Ouster Powers Again Demanded

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Governor Lausche made it plain today that his crusade against gambling is not aimed at the friendly poker game or the little bet between individuals.

In demanding the power to remove sheriffs as well as mayors who do not enforce gambling laws, Lausche told the legislature:

"I do not speak of the innocuous wagering done by the individual. I speak of those places of commercialized, racketeering gambling; those places which are contaminating the morals of our youth.

"This drastic power is needed to curb the defiance of a few sheriffs in our state.

"The overwhelming majority of sheriffs in Ohio are honest and excellent officers. Unfortunately, however, we occasionally find a sheriff who flagrantly refuses to enforce the law and permits the operation of racketeering gambling enterprises.

"The legislature has seen fit to grant authority to the governor to remove mayors who fail to enforce the gambling laws. This right of the governor has never been abused.

"I therefore recommend the enactment of legislation which in respect to the governor's power of suspension and removal shall place the sheriff and mayor in comparable positions."

Radio 'Blue Book' Flouts Democracy, Committee Says

congress in the act creating the commission, declared that "no regulation or condition shall be promulgated or fixed by the commission which shall interfere with the right of free speech by means of radio communications."

This is in line with charges made by The News-Journal last year that the FCC, through illegal use of its powers, was rejecting radio applications of newspapers, not because they were not financially and technically qualified, but because members of the commission disapproved of their editorial policies.

The committee recommended consideration of new legislation that "will leave no question of the intent of congress that radio must remain as free as the press and violation of the acts of congress and the first amendment of the constitution in this regard will no longer be tolerated."

To write the Blue Book, the FCC employed Charles Arthur Seipman, native of England, who was for 12 years employed by the government owned and controlled British Broadcasting company, and was, for a time, its director of program planning.

Of this, the investigating committee of five congressmen, headed by Rep. Forest A. Harness, Indiana, says:

"Your committee asserts that the employment of a man experienced in controlling programs from a government ownership viewpoint, in the preparation of the 'Blue Book' supports the premise that such employment was a deliberate step toward government control of radio."

The committee added that this action of the FCC reveals a lack of faith in the American system of free radio and a desire to impose controls over what the people may hear.

"We are forced to the conclusion," the congressmen report, "that such acts were the misuse of powers far beyond those given the commission by congress."

The report goes on:

"The commission certainly knows that it can more successfully influence the character of broadcasting by indirection than by actions which might be successfully challenged. Its policy-making and directing personnel certainly are aware that the commission does not have to wield a meat axe to exert pressure and influence upon broadcasters. Because the FCC power to license and periodically renew licenses is literally the power of life and death, the broadcaster must be sensitive to even the slightest implication on the part of the commission. Former FCC Chairman Fly, who was chairman when the 'Blue Book' was conceived, once amusingly spoke of the situation as 'regulation by raised eyebrow'."

Charging that the commission is an example of the danger to our traditional form of government, by which executive, legislative and judicial powers are kept divided, the committee urges that the judiciary committees of both houses and lawyers and judges throughout the nation be on guard.

The American constitution makers, said the investigators, recognized that the system of checks and balances would prevent any one branch of the government from becoming so dominant that its citizens would have no method of redress "The constitutional provisions were passed against the backdrop of English history in which the king was legislator, he appointed and controlled the judiciary (the judges) and all branches of the court such as prosecutors, and he had the absolute power of dissolving the legislative branch and of vetoing its action."

The committee fears that such government agencies as the FCC are heading us back to government by "autocratic iron fist regulations."

Shep Fields Band to Play 4 Shows In City Tomorrow

Shep Fields and his "Rippling Rhythm" band, favorites in Mansfield, will return to the city Wednesday to play four stage shows at the Madison theater.

It will be Fields' third appearance in Mansfield in recent years.

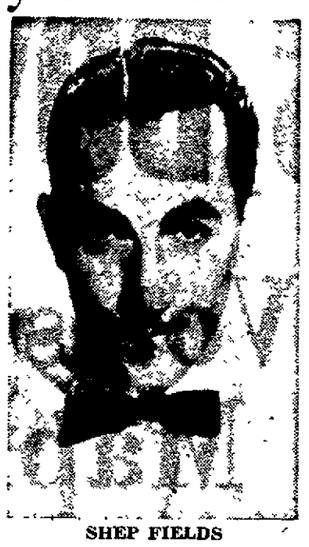
Stage shows are scheduled for 2:45, 5:15, 7:30, and 9:30 p. m. The movie to be shown with the orchestra is "Mystery In Mexico," with William Lundigan, Ricardo Cortez and Jacqueline White.

Fields has just completed engagements at the Hotel New Yorker in New York and his own night club, Glen Island Casino, New York.

The band features the singing of Toni Arden.

"Rippling Rhythm," Fields' trade mark, was discovered while he was still in high school. Sipping a chocolate soda through a straw, he unconsciously hummed a tune through the straw, liked the result, and called the orchestral equivalent — "Rippling Rhythm."

He introduced the new style for the first time at the Palmer House in Chicago where he was booked on a two-week option. The band was such a sensation that it remained for a run of 40 weeks.



SHEP FIELDS

In 1943, Shep threw "Rippling Rhythm" overboard and tried "New Music," his own combination of nine saxophones and five rhythm instruments. His new style was again highly acclaimed and was in full demand for three years, but finally his old "Rippling Rhythm" won out, through public demand, and he's back in the "Rippling Groove" ever since.

Police Seek Sex Fiend

Link Assaulter To Knife Slaying

PITTSBURGH — (UP) — Evidence linking a sex fiend who attacked two baby sisters two days ago with the knife slayer of 12-year-old Carole Lee Kensinger increased today.

Police disclosed that the victims of the latest assault live only 25 feet across an alley from the new home of the Kensinger family.

One investigator said Carole Lees' killer may have been prowling around her familys' house, early Sunday, checking developments in the investigation, but was attracted into the adjacent home of the babies when the mother, Mrs. Mildred Litsko, 25, left to buy a newspaper.

Mrs. Litsko said her quick return surprised the intruder. He was holding her three-month-old daughter, Mildred, in his arms, but dropped the infant to the floor and then attempted to commit an indecent act on her other child, Virginia, 3. He fled, however, after struggling with the mother.

Shoplifts Flatiron, Sent to Jail

Transient Admits Neisner Store Theft

James Gillespie, no permanent address, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail after he pleaded guilty in municipal court today to a charge of petit larceny.

He admitted shoplifting a flatiron worth $3.29 from the Neisner store, 79 North Main street, Saturday.

Fred Hogmire, 129 South Diamond street, was committed to county jail for 30 days on an assault and battery charge brought by Edna Sipe. Last week, he was found guilty of an assault and battery charge brought by the same person and at that time he was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence.

That 30-day suspension was vacated today and Hogmire was ordered to serve the 30 days and pay a fine of $10 and costs.

CASE CONTINUED

Dominic and Albert Fresch, the Sandusky brothers accused of illegally cutting Christmas trees from the Philip Schmutzler farm, near Adario, won a third continuance and hearing was set for Feb. 15.

The case was originally set for Dec. 20. The court granted a postponement until Jan. 3, when the pair pleaded innocent and hearing was reset for Jan. 18 Today, Prosecutor Harold Lutz was not ready to go ahead with the preliminary hearing, so the third postponement was granted.

In other cases, Dr. Harold F. Mills, of Lexington, forfeited a $25 bond for speeding; J. Ernie Bauer, 663 Scholl road, paid $10 and costs for disregarding a traffic signal, and Claude D. Ash, Mansfield, R. D. 3, was fined $5 and costs for having improper lights.

John Atwell, of Fairfax avenue, was given a 10-day suspended jail sentence on an assault and battery charge brought by his wife.

Cities Ask More Money

Mansfield, along with other Ohio cities which are seeking a larger share of the state collected sales tax, is keeping its fingers crossed as the new state legislature gets down to business.

Yesterday, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, along with other members of the Ohio Association of Municipalities met with Gov. Frank J. Lausche and asked that state aid to cities and towns be increased by $57,000,000 in the 1949-50 biennium.

The municipal leaders asked the governor for 30 per cent of the state sales tax for the next two years, or about $81,000,000 as compared with the $24,000,000 received biennially now.

Mayor Vaughn said today that the governor received the group graciously, but he didn't make any commitments. Lausche told the committee:

"I can't say now what can or will be done. I recognize your plight, but we will have to consider all the demands for extra money."

TIE THEFTS TO ESCAPE

CLEVELAND—(AP)—A series of three automobile thefts in northern Ohio was considered by police today as the work of three fugitives who escaped from the Trumbull county jail at Warren, Sunday.

AGAIN HEADS DRIVE—Grover C. Hoyman, assistant cashier of the Adams bank, Millersburg, and former recorder of Holmes county, is heading the Holmes March of Dimes polio fund drive for the sixth straight year. The drive opened Friday and will be spotlighted by a ball Jan. 26, in the Nashville school auditorium. There was not a single case of polio reported last year in the county.

Shelby Takes Street Action

SHELBY — Street improvement ordinances were passed by council here last night and Mayor William Morris announced four contract bids for the municipal light plant would be accepted on Feb. 1. He also said new boiler tests would be held at the plant next Tuesday.

The contract bids cover a turbine generator, condenser, cooling tower and stage heater. Council authorized the mayor to advertise for bids on the purchase of gasoline, oil and grease and also for the purchase of fire hose.

Storm and sanitary sewers highlighted the street improvement action. Another ordinance passed covered salary rates of the light and water department including vacations, sick leaves and common labor pay hikes.

Board Names Teacher

The appointment of Mrs. Lillian H. Colwell, 105 Sherman avenue, as a permanent substitute teacher for the second semester was approved by the school board last night.

The resignation of Mrs. Martha Pettit, Tiro, R. D. 1, from Woodland school was accepted by the board. The request of Miss Bertha Ulrey, 187½ Marion avenue, for a leave of absence from John Simpson junior high school to continue her training for a higher degree was granted.

Robert Knofflock, 27 Hoffman avenue, was appointed custodian of athletic equipment at Senior high school. He will replace the late Mathias "Pop" Elias.

Files Belated Report of Theft

A New Year's eve theft from a car parked at a cafe on South Main street was reported to sheriff's deputies last night.

Curtis Guntharp, 36 Clifton avenue, listed the items stolen as two rear view mirrors, a radio aerial, four chrome wheel rims, a flashlight, a pair of tan leather gloves and an army blanket.

Water Plans Get Impetus In Ashland

Council Approves Construction Step

ASHLAND—Ashland's proposed $375,000 waterworks improvement program moved a step ahead last night with city council's approval of construction plans.

Plans were submitted by the Paul Uhlmann engineering consulting firm of Columbus which is in charge of planning the huge program.

The construction approval was the second step as preliminary plans were approved earlier. The plans now go to the state department of health for final approval before actual construction starts.

If possible, the program will get under way this year in order the now inadequate waterworks system may be enlarged and improved to accommodate the fast growing needs of the city.

The construction takes in the entire waterworks system from pumpig station, filtration plant through the entire water lines, and is expected to include an additional reservoir.

Second Fire Flares At City Building

The city building today had its second fire in two days.

This time flames broke out in a waste paper basket in the captain's room of the police department.

Only damage was to the waste paper contents, but smoke spread through the second and third floors of the building. Unlike yesterday, the fire department today was not called. Policemen extinguished the fire, which occurred shortly after 1 p. m.

Yesterday's fire occurred in the janitor's closet in the basement and was quickly extinguished by firemen who extended a hose from the engine house to the closet.

Historical Sketch Of Butler To Be Aired

ASHLAND—Station WTAG, at 7:45 p. m. today, will broadcast a sketch of the early history and founding of Butler. It is being sponsored by the AF Specialized Depot at Shelby and offers a girls' vocal sextet in "Winter Wonderland."

City Teachers Vote Funds To Aid Instructors Overseas

City teachers again will contribute to the Overseas Teachers Relief Fund, it was voted at a meeting of the Mansfield Teachers association yesterday afternoon at Senior high school.

Action to continue aid for bringing teachers from foreign countries to this country for study was taken during a business meeting which followed three one-act plays. Miss Elena Percy reported on the relief program, for which Mansfield teachers gave $1.57 last year.

The plays, "Let's Make Up," a comedy; "Suicide," a satire, and "Afraid of the Dark," a psychological drama, were presented by the students at Senior high school. The first two short plays were given by pupils of Miss Martha Eckert, speech teacher at the school, and the final one by Earl Heasley's dramatics students.

Raymond Dent, president, took charge of the business meeting and called for reports on the recent studies of the legislative committee on federal aid program. Fred Elder gave this report and told what the Ohio Education association and the National Educational association have done to promote the passage of such bills.

C. A. Divelbiss and John C. Stout, delegates to the Ohio meeting at Columbus Dec. 27 to 29, reported on the conference.

Mining Laws Draw Attack

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Ohio's present strip mine law drew the fire of Governor Lausche as "inadequate" and as not being able to "accomplish the purpose for which it was enacted."

In his address to the legislature, Lausche termed the law "a dead letter on the statute books of Ohio" because the last legislature failed to make an appropriation for its enforcement He stated:

"I recommend that this 98th General assembly amend the law by removing the conflicting provisions, by adding to it stricter and firmer provisions of enforcement, and by implementing it with an appropriation of funds that will make enforcement possible."

Noted Swindler Dies In Poverty

RIO DE JANEIRO—(AP)—Charles Ponzi, whose financial swindles rooked Americans a generation ago, died Saturday in a hospital charity ward. His body still lay unclaimed today in a public morgue.

Ponzi's colossal financial hoax was perpetrated in 1920. He promised 50 per cent returns on money within 45 days. When he finally was brought to book on charges of using the mails to defraud, federal investigators estimated he had bilked 40,000 Americans of more than $15,000,000.

Bowling Match, Dance Add $500 to Ruth Cancer Fund

Mansfielders supported the Babe Ruth Cancer Fund bowling match and dance to the tune of $500 clear profit. Harvey Anderson, manager of the Richland Recreation, said today.

Anderson said a check for the amount will be forwarded to Columnist Walter Winchell, instigator of the fund in memory of the immortal of baseball. Ruth died last year of complications after undergoing surgery two years before for cancer.

The bowling match and dance, held at the Recreation Center on Jan. 8 drew approximately 800 persons. Highlight of the event was the All-Star bowling team of five major league baseball players who took on the Louis Zahn construction bowlers.

Members of the All-Stars included Dizzy Trout, pitcher for the Detroit Tigers; Art Houttemann, also of the Tigers; Steve Gromek of the Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox players, Cass Michaels and Billy Pearce.

The construction team winners of the match were Zahn, Dale Cleckner, Farrell Hipp, Fred Willis, Nick Webber and Harold LeMunyon, chairman of the money-raising project. Speros Karas' orchestra played for dancing following the match.

Opening Day at New Roseland School

COMPLETION and occupancy of the new Roseland school is a gratifying first step toward expanding and modernizing Mansfield's public school system to the point of meeting this city's present and future educational needs.

In design and equipment the Roseland building provides an example of modern ideas of elementary school construction and facilities and evidences the great changes that have come about since now obsolete grade school buildings were erected.

With 12 classrooms, two for each of the six elementary grades, present enrollment of 327 pupils in Roseland school represents approximately the average number of children in each room that can be best instructed by a teacher, as it is overcrowding that tends to reduce efficiency and prevent the individual attention that some pupils require.

While the opening of Roseland school will serve to slightly reduce the overcrowded situation in several other grade schools, there is still an urgent need for further expansion of elementary school facilities if all of Mansfield's younger children are to have the educational opportunities to which they are entitled.

Remember Changes In Postal Rates

WHILE people are gradually adjusting to changes in postal rates effective the first of the year, belated arrival of stamps of proper denomination for air mail and special delivery has added to the confusion.

It was necessary to remember, for instance, that an additional one-cent stamp was required on an air mail letter bearing the five-cent stamp, and that special delivery letters needed a two-cent stamp in addition to the 13-cent stamp previously used.

Then there was the change to two-cent postage on third-class circular letters, unsealed greeting cards, etc., for the long-experienced 1½-cent rate—something easily forgotten by those accustomed to the lower charge.

The three-cent first-class rate for letters continues, as does also the penny postal card, but the latter is quite likely to be increased at any time, due to the loss of approximately 1½ cents on each postal card handled by the department.

Workers Advised Against 'Slowdown'

IN A RECENT talk to a CIO union, the Most Rev. Russell J. McVinney, Catholic Bishop of Providence, condemned strike violence and "slowdown" tactics. Then he said: "It is a grave sin against justice for a workman to accept a day's wages when he knows he is not giving an honest day's work. Bricklayers used to lay 1,500 bricks a day, but now they're down to 400.

"Drones and racketeers who operate under the aegis of your unions are bringing shame to you. I think it is time they be punished within the union or read out of membership. They are discrediting organized labor, and you may all regret it. I charge you to set about purging the undesirables and correcting the abuses."

Except for those whose conduct merits this adverse criticism, there is appearance of quite general agreement with this churchman's pronouncement, as the "slowdown" in worker output has become a scandal in the building trades in some cities and has also been noticeable in other lines of work.

The stand taken by some highly-placed labor leaders against communism has earned applause. It is equally important that drones who receive big pay for scanty output be recognized as a detriment to organizations that tolerate the "slowdown" practice.

Railroads Pepping Up Service

RAILROADS at last are making serious efforts to sell transportation to their customers. Everyone has experienced the annoyance of long lines at ticket windows, and the consequent delays in getting served. The New Haven railroad is offering a partial solution by its announcement that henceforth tickets will be obtainable at Western Union offices at well as at stations and ticket offices. If the plan works, it will be extended.

This is a new departure which might be compared with the sale of tickets by mail, an innovation introduced by the Chesapeake and Ohio. If railroads keep trying experiments in this line, it may some day be reasonably easy to buy a rail ticket and a sleeper reservation.

Alcohol As Motor Fuel Visioned

CHEMISTS persist in the search for a practical mixture of gasoline and alcohol which would make a satisfactory motor fuel for automobiles and trucks. The principal gain would be conservation of petroleum and lead supplies, both of which tend to be scarce. Once it was thought that a cheaper fuel might result, but this no longer has many supporters.

The idea still is held that an alcohol-gasoline mixture is desirable to expand the market for agricultural products, chiefly grains from which alcohol can readily be made. Market supplies of grains have been larger than demand at various times, and tend to be so now.

But against this theory are set the facts that some other parts of the world have inadequate supplies of grain, and that there is a growing opinion of experts that in a future generation the agricultural industry of this country will be hard pressed to produce enough to feed the people.

In that future time an alcoholic fuel might not be of much help, but if a successful mixture can be perfected for use in the intervening period, perhaps the useful petroleum reserves can be spared to some degree.

Claude Callan advises: "Government money may run out by the time you are old enough to get a pension, so you had best be laying aside something with which to pension yourself."

'Rights' Not Violated

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — Former Governor Ellis Arnall of Georgia often made the point, when the question was raised about "restoring" states' rights, that it was not a matter of "restoring" rights but of the states fulfilling obligations under the rights they already had, which were plentiful, to meet the needs of the people.

It was the failure of the states to do things for their people, he said, that brought demands for federal intervention.

In his administration as governor of Georgia much was done to fulfill such obligations — in improving conditions among the people and notably in the case of such a fundamental as the right of the ballot.

The poll tax was repealed and he called upon the people of his state to follow the Supreme Court decision, in a Georgia case, that nullified the "white primary." As a result, the franchise was extended broadly to both whites and Negroes.

In the next primary election nearly a million votes were cast, including those of 80,000 Negroes. There are now some 1,200,000 votes registered in the state, among them 150,000 Negroes.

Now along comes Governor Herman Talmadge, determined to restrict this basic right of franchise. He has proposed to the legislature, which he controls, that it impose an educational test which can be distorted, as it has in other southern states, to prevent Negroes from voting, accompanied by a requirement for complete new registration by which this discriminating weeding out process can be accomplished. He further proposes restoration of the poll tax. Georgia's secretary of state estimates this would reduce voters by one-half.

In the newspapers that carried dispatches about this backward step there was also a dispatch revealing a frustration of justice in Georgia involving the basic rights of protection of citizens.

A local lawyer called as witnesses two members of a jury, which was trying two white men in connection with the shocking lynching of a Negro who was shot in cold blood by a mob as he and his wife were drivinng home in their automobile.

The white jurors were used as character witnesses for the first defendant who was on trial and against the widow. That is legal in Georgia, as in some other states. The result was an acquittal and a gross miscarriage of justice.

* * *

When States Fail.

NEWSPAPERS also carried that same day two other stories. One was about the group of distinguished citizens of the National Citizens' Council of Civil Rights who called on President Truman to support his federal civil-rights program. The other was about a meeting of southern "state rights" senators to organize a filibuster against that same civil-rights program.

It all weaves together in a pattern.

State rights in Georgia, as often in other southern states, can be distorted to take away rights guaranteed to all our people by the Constitution.

That is why the cry about states' rights rings so hollow so frequently. That is why President Truman is asking for federal civil rights statutes.

A citizen is a citizen, wherever he lives in our country. Just because in the early days of our nation an imaginary line was drawn around one locality called Georgia, or another called Alabama, or another called Mississippi, seems no valid reason why citizens who live there and work there and contribute to the wealth of the section should not have protection and rights guaranteed to all of us.

If they don't, then those states have abdicated their rights. That is why it is proposed that the federal government, representing all the people, should extend its protection to people wherever they live — through an anti-lynching bill, an anti-poll tax bill, and anti-discrimination bill, and other protective measures.

What's 'Middle' Income?

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Most people must have been left calm when President Truman talked of raising income taxes.

That's because most people who pay personal income taxes would not be touched by the kind of tax raise he mentioned.

He asked Congress this month to raise taxes on corporations and consider raising them on people in the middle and upper income groups.

And at a White House news conference last Thursday he was asked what he meant when he spoke of "middle" income people.

He said the treasury department defines the "middle" people as those starting at $6,000 and going up to $25,000 and $30,000 a year.

But how many people make $6,000 a year or more in this country? You can get different figures from different government agencies.

The Federal Reserve Board seems to have the latest collection, so take a look at them.

The board's figures are for the income of "families" in 1947. And it defines a family as "all related persons living in one household."

The board's figures—for 42,000,000 families in 1947—show that only 14 per cent of them—or 5,880,000 families—had income over $6,000.

The other 86 per cent—or 36,120,000 families outof 42,000,000—had incomes under $6,000 a year and this ranged down to below $1,000 a year.

* * *

Wide Variation Revealed.

STARTING at the bottom and working up, his shows the percentage of families in the various groups:

Under $1.000 a year—13 per cent of the families; $1,000 to $2,000 a year—18 per cent; $2,000 to $3,000—20 per cent; $3,000 to $4,000—17 per cent; $4,000 to $5,000—11 per cent; $5,000 to $6,000 7 per cent;; $6,000 to $10,000—10 per cent; and $10,000 and over—4 per cent.

But—only 21 per cent of all American families in 1947 got 50 per cent of the total family income. In other words, 8,820,000 of the 42,000,000 families got half the income.

And those were families with income of $5,000 or more. It breaks down like this:

Only 13 per cent of all families had income of $5,000 to $7,500, and they received 20 per cent of the total income; only eight per cent of all the families had incomes over $7,500 and they received $30 per cent of the income.

These Federal Reserve Board fugures do not show precisely how much of the American families' income went to families with income of $6,000 and over.

But it's people with $6,000 income and over that Mr. Truman said Congress should consider taxing a little harder.

Dave Boone Says:

WELL, this is Inaugural Week in Washington. I hear the parade will be so big it will take five hours to pass a given decimal point. Detours will be taken around the dollar signs, commas, and assorted numerals.

* * *

There will be half-a-hundred floats depicting the life and times of the Democratic party and they may make the New Orleans Mardi Gras and Philadelphia Mummers parades look like mere Republican sideshows.

* * *

The floats will probably include some entitled "The Spirit of 76 Billions." "Through the Budget By Canoe and Surfboard." and "The Three Great Stretch Runners. Citation, Stymie, and Truman."

* * *

There will be two-dozen brass bands—and I figure that will be just about enough to drown out the alibis of all those leading Democrats who declared last Jun that Harry didn't have an outside chance.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Inaugural Show Planned By Circus Fan

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — As the clans begin to gather in Washington, D. C., it's generally conceded that the inauguration of Harry Truman will surpass even that of Andrew Jackson as the greatest show in history.

Perhaps that is because Melvin Hildreth, chairman of the inaugural committee, is longtime president of the Circus Fans of America.

Hildreth, one of the few District of Columbia politicos who never wavered in his belief that Truman would be re-elected, has only one other love beside the President—the circus.

No circus ever comes to town but Mel Hildreth is down at the lot long before the big top arrives, making sure things are in order. If it's rained in advance, he'll get truckloads of cinders at his own expense to keep the show dry.

When Ringling Brothers comes North for its first early spring opening in New York, Hildreth is down at the Potomac Yards in Alexandria, where the train stops en route to water the animals.

There isn't a clown or an animal trainer of any standing who doesn't know Mel Hildreth.

Mel's business is law. He is a practicing attorney. But those who know him sometimes wonder if he isn't really just a small boy at heart. Certainly no inaugural in history has been better planned or more extravagantly executed than that which will swear in Harry S. Truman as 32nd President of the United States on Thursday.

Battery D Celebrates.

SECOND only to the days in 1918 when they wheeled their French 75s into action in the Vosges Mountains, this week is the most momentous in history for Battery D, 129th Field Artillery, 35th Division. This week Battery D will march at the head of the inaugural parade as guard of honor to the little captain who commanded it in World War I.

Just before that parade there will be a reunion breakfast on Missouri ham attended by Capt. Harry Truman. There have been other reunions of Battery D, and Captain Truman is hoping that this one won't be anything like the one back in 1921.

That was just three years after the end of the war and some members of Battery D were still unmarried, still in the process of getting readjusted. That reunion, staged in the Kansas City Elks club, was carefully planned, from an elaborate dinner to speeches, skits and song. The cocktails were served and wartime stories retold. Dinner was postponed while the drinks went round again—and then again—and some more.

Finally someone picked up a plate, sailed it across the room. Then "Dizzy Battery D" went on a rampage.

Some two hours and 400 plates later, the reunion ended. Next day the Elks club totaled the damages and presented a bill for $158 to the President of the Battery D Association.

That was the biggest bill for chinaware Harry Truman ever had to pay.

Note—Three weeks ago in Kansas City, Truman, who had not been one of the active plate-sailors, chided his comrades-in-arms: "I'll be glad to see you all in Washington, but I don't look forward to buying another $158 worth of broken dishes."

* * *

Capt. Truman Under Fire.

WHEN Harry Truman was a very green and nervous artillery captain going into action for the first time he ran across Judge Bennett Clark, former senator from Missouri, and son of the famed Speaker Champ Clark. Clark and Truman had trained together in the Missouri National Guard, and went to France together about the same time, Clark with the rank of lieutenant colonel in the 6th Missouri Infantry.

Truman's horse-drawn artillery had just arrived at a French railroad station behind the Vosges front in "40 and 8" boxcars, and was in the process of unloading when, suddenly, Lt. Col. Clark turned to Truman. Pointing dramatically to a dead horse lying near the railroad station, he commanded:

"Captain, you better get your men and guns out of here in a hurry. The Germans are shelling this place and you ought to unload and get under cover as quick as you can."

Taking Clark at his word, the nervous future President of the United States ordered his battery to detrain in a hurry, even pitching in himself to help. After Battery D had sweated frantically to get out of the "zone of fire," Clark walked over to Truman with a grin.

"That's a fine job, Truman," he said. "But the joke's on you. That horse wasn't killed by the Germans. He was shot by a veterinarian."

Truman didn't think the joke was so funny then. Since then, he has tackled other new jobs, and has pitched in, green and nervous, to get them done. Later, when he became President of the United States, and Bennett Clark was defeated for the Senate, he appointed the ex-lieutenant colonel who played the joke on him to a coveted seat on the U. S. Court of Appeals.

J. Edgar Hoover's Pay.

SENATOR Herbert O'Conor of Maryland, Democratic sponsor of the government pay-raise bill, cited G-man J. Edgar Hoover in an article for American Magazine as one public servant who didn't get paid enough. Yet, when O'Conor drew up his bill to boost government salaries, he strangely left Hoover's name off.

This omission caused a flare-up behind closed doors when Vermont's Senator Ralph Flanders, co-author with O'Conor of the pay-raise bill, was questioned before the GOP steering committee to explain it.

Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire asked why the FBI director had not been included in the bill.

"We had to draw the line somewhere," explained Flanders!

"It's a crooked, indistinct line," retorted Bridges, "when you increase the salaries of the deputy public printer, the chief assistant librarian of Congress and the Philippine alien property administrator—and leave off the director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation."

Flanders countered by suggesting that Hoover's name be brought up in a later bill.

Midst Royal Splendor

By INEZ ROBB

WASHINGTON — His Christmas neckties are the only new glad rags in Harry S. Truman's inaugural wardrobe.

The nation's first family, true to American tradition when faced with heavy and important social duties such as an inauguration, has provided new clothes for its women-folk.

Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, each have handsome new wardrobes with which to start the new administration.

But there is still plenty of mileage in the striped pants and hammer-claw coat acquired by Mr. Truman for official and formal occasions soon after he became President. He will make-do with the items already hanging in his wardrobe.

This does not mean that Mr. Truman will not be every bit as chic through this inaugural season as his ladies. He will look his usual immaculate, well-tailored self when he takes the oath of office on Thursday and when he later attends the inaugural ball.

It merely means that his formal gear is in good condition. In these trying days of peace, even the formal wardrobe of a chief of state doesn't get much of a work-out. The danger is not from wear and tear, but moths.

The President, a man whose idea of a good time is a little quiet poker with the boys, is in the midst of a social whirl calculated to fell a hardened debutante.

During the next 96 hours, Mr. Truman will be the lion of an extensive clambake calling for a stout heart and sturdy arches. And he isn't too happy about it. It is reliably reported that the President is more than a little vexed by plans for an inauguration fiesta so extensive, elaborate and exuberant.

A simple man, Mr. Truman is said to have preferred something smacking a little less of a coronation or a diamond jubilee.

However, the Democrats are pouring it on, both the deserving who always kept the true faith and the doubters who couldn't believe, until Nov. 3, that Cinderella would ever overtake Citation.

* * *

No Dull Moments.

FROM the moment Mr. Truman leaves the Truman-Barkley club dinner at the Mayflower hotel tomorrow night until he returns Friday evening from a reception at the Wardman Park in his honor by John W. Snyder, secretary of the treasury, the President will scarcely have a chance to climb out of his boiled shirt.

Not all the festivities to which Mr. Truman has committed himself are stuffy. He ought to have fun Wednesday night at something called the inaugural gala in the National Guard armory for which a formidable array of Broadway and Hollywood talent and cheesecake has been recruited.

Mr. Truman must shake himself out of the sack by 6 a. m. at the latest on inauguration day. One hour later, the President will sit down to breakfast with his old World War I buddies, the members of Battery D, 129th field artillery, 35th Division.

His comrades at arms are coming to Washington in a body to march in the inaugural parade.

After breakfast, Mr. Truman must rush back to the temporary White House (Blair House), to get into his striped pants for the formal inaugural ceremony on Capitol Hill at high noon.

Once he has taken the oath of office, the President will have only a short time in which to grab a snack of luncheon at the Capitol before leading his own inaugural parade down Pennsylvania avenue at 1:30 p. m.

When he reaches the presidential stand in front of the White House, Mr. Truman will leave his car and review the parade. It will be a stand-up job and a tiring one in a long and busy day.

He will have to leave the stand shortly after 4 p. m. in order to freshen up and reach the National Art Gallery by 5 p. m. Because the White House is closed for repairs, the presidential reception will be held this year at the art gallery, built with the late Andy Mellon's Republican fortune.

The reception is for friends of the first family and deserving Democrats who cannot be ignored. The list has already reached 3000!

This means that the President and Mrs. Truman must stand and shake hands until time to rush back to Blair House for a bite of dinner before dressing for the inaugural ball. This, too, is an exclusive affair, limited to 5300 guests by fire department ordinance.

Farmer's Diary

When Ground Is Frozen

By CALVIN A. BYERS

IT GOT colder in the night. When I walked out of the house this morning, a glint of light up on the roadside bank drew me up to investigate. The moist banks had become palisades of clay, with a colonnade of glistening columns holding up a protruding turf.

The first rays of morning sun slanted against these frosted columns and reflected rainbow colors in natural artistry. They sparkled and shimmered and came alive for a moment.

I breathed more deeply and walked on a little piece, just to feel the chill zest of the winter morning. The ruts in the lane by the woods gouged the night before by tractor and car as though in grease, now stood sharp and stiff as if carved out of iron.

The marsh was frozen and every meadow brook was stilled. I felt the strange silence of the congealed earthen crust, and knew that it would defy the hardest tools of steel to break away its clutching icy fingers. A grave digger's task would be hard on such a day, I mused.

Yet locked beneath the frozen ground a constant warmth ebbs and flows. The heavy coverlid of frosty clods holds close the promise of another summer.

With every new cold wave, the thickened bridge is built deeper. The icy needles of moisture penetrate the bridge of the fertile field, seal the swamp, glaze the streams and rivers. "Snug winter" calls for the sky to put down a few inches of quiet snow over the crusty earth. Snow protects the wheat, the rye, the grasses.

With good luck, such a winter will stay until March. Then some night, when the spring aroma is in the air, a great rending, tearing roar will travel along the valley. The crust of ice and frost can no longer hold back the imprisoned warmth that keeps rising beneath it.

I remember once when we sat at supper in the old home among the Pennsylvania mountains. The air had that strange spring-like feel, and the geese were restless. All at once, mighty ripping noises tore along through the valley.

Startled, half fearful, we children ran out onto the porch, listened to the awe-inspiring "knee deep-in-thunder" echoes that reverberated from the ridges. Our father came out, too. His face was lighted by the knowledge he had of signs. "Now spring will come," he told us. "We shall have early garden this year." And so we did.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

SUSPENSION of the draft for February and March was no surprise. . . . We can't spare a single potential taxpayer until at least June.

* * *

But it will seem funny to see the "Uncle Sam Needs You!" posters switched from Fort Dix to Fort Knox.

* * *

There is some demand that expenses be cut instead of raising taxes but that would mean ending aid to foreign governments . . . such as the government of Turkey.

* * *

That's the one that just fell while we were supporting it.

* * *

Rep. Halleck dares the President to raise income taxes and we wish he would stop it. . . . He also dared Truman to run.

* * *

But that was a smart move of the President . . . putting a mustache in his cabinet. Now the voters must have had something else against Dewey.

According to Time Magazine, New York City has more Irish (500,000) than Dublin, more Jews (3 million) than Palestine, and almost as many Italians (1,100,000) as Rome! In a single day the city uses over a billion gallons of water and imports almost 25,000 tons of food. Four hundred thousand commuters stream into Manhattan daily on trains arriving at the rate of one every fifty seconds, day and night.

'THE SEED PACKET STORY' PRESENTED TO STUDY CLUB

Miss Katharine Bricker Furnishes Program to Round Table Club on Monday.

MISS KATHARINE BRICKER provided the program of the Round Table club following commonwealth luncheon at 1 o'clock Monday in the Women's Club. Mrs. L. S. Houk served as program chairman.

"The Seed Packet Story" was the topic Miss Bricker discussed in a most interesting manner. She compared the flowers and vegetables of our great-grandmothers' day with the improved kinds of today, and traced the development of the better varieties.

"Ninety per cent of all flower seeds in the United States today are raised in the Lompoc and Salinas regions of California," she told the group. She told of the Department of Agriculture in the late '90's sending experts to foreign lands to find new and desirable food and ornamental plants.

Miss Bricker gave full credit to Mendel for first discovering the law of heredity in plant-breeding, with special tribute being paid to Cuthbertson's sweetpeas, wilt-resistant asters, double petunias, Golden-Glow nasturiatoms and odorless marigolds.

The speaker described how plant breeders shuffle the desirable characteristics of the plant until he has succeeded in isolating and combining the ones he wants, which according to Miss Bricker, is "good plant-breeding."

In closing, she said: "When you buy a package of good seeds you are buying more than tiny pellets, you are buying a tremendous lot of human brain work and devotion to a high ideal, research and labor."

The next meeting, Jan. 31, will be a commonwealth luncheon and guest meeting at 1 p. m. at the Women's club, with Mrs. George Anson, Mrs. J. B. Lindley jr., and Mrs. W. J. Tappan serving as sponsors. Mrs. H. N. Keene will serve as program chairman and introduce the guest speaker, Mrs. H. E. Andrews, professor of English at Ashland college, who will speak on "Hamlet."

Santa Maria Study Club Hears Program By Mrs. Rathburn

MISS EVA MAYER, 254 Abbeyfeale road, invited members of the Santa Maria Study club to her home Monday evening, with Mrs. Joseph Lain as a guest.

Mrs. Joseph Rizzo, president, conducted the meeting which was opened with a prayer. Mrs. William Rathburn had the evening's program and presented an unusual paper on "Death Isn't Terrible," by Father Daniel A. Lord, S. J.

She explained that according to Father Lord, death releases many people from misery and suffering. "If there were no death, people with incurable diseases would face an eternity of pain," she said.

"For the man who has belief in God, death is the beginning of life. It is the meeting with God and His angels and saints," Mrs. Rathburn told the group. "Life on earth is a preliminary trial and experiment to prepare us for life after death. Only three things make death terrible, lack of faith, greedy clinging to earth and the things of earth, and dying with a serious sin on the soul."

At the close of the program the group played bridge at three tables with prizes won by Mrs. Edward Henrich and Miss Geraldine Madden. Luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Frank Kmetz.

The next meeting, Feb. 21, will be at the home of Mrs. Marie Maier, 130 Reba avenue, with Mrs. C. J. Kalbfleisch as associate hostess.

The final test of a good pie is the crust. When making it, add water sparingly, sprinkling it ligthly over the flour-shortening mixture. Enough water has been added if the ingredients just hold together when pressed with the fingers. Toss dough on a lightly floured board or pastry cloth and roll lightly from center. Lift dough a few times while rolling; this helps to prevent sticking.

HOW DR. EDWARDS' HELPED ME LICK CONSTIPATION
the clogging, TRANSIENT kind!

"Whenever undigested food clogs my intestines and causes constipation with its bad breath, lack of pep, sallow skin—I rely on Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They always work so gently yet thoroughly giving such complete, more natural-like bowel movements!"

For years, Dr. F. M. Edwards, a noted Ohio Doctor, successfully relieved his constipated patients with his famous Olive Tablets—now sold by drugstores. Olive Tablets are a strictly all vegetable formula. They act on BOTH upper and lower bowels and clean waste from entire intestinal tract. Follow directions. 15¢, 30¢ —Adv.

A LOAF OF BREAD HAS—

What's in a nickel's worth of bread? Mrs. Clara Gebhard Snyder, Director of the Wheat Flour Institute, points out that six slices of bread a day provides 30 per cent of the protein recommended as a daily intake, 35 per cent of the thiamine, 31 per cent of the niacin, 17 per cent of the riboflavin, and 25 per cent of the iron. If the bread is made with three per cent milk solids, this amount even provides 5.8 per cent of the calcium.
